A Time to

Fort Hays Kansas

Time is one of man's most valuable gifts, yet frequently the one he treasures least. Man seldom makes full and wise use of time and when he finally realizes its true worth—it is gone forever. He can only look back and rejoice or regret.

When the 1963-64 college year is only a memory, you may open your Reveille and remember Fort Hays State. All the events, activities and people, like the grains of sand trickling through the small opening of the hourglass, are a measure of the time you spent here.

Within these pages you will recapture moments on the football field and basketball court when you cheered the Tiger teams from the sidelines. Scanning the pictures of students, professors and imposing stone buildings, you will be reminded of the classrooms and laboratories where you worked. You will remember friends in sororities, fraternities, professional clubs, religious organizations and residence halls.

Most of all, you will remember that you were a part of Fort Hays State. It was here that you had the time of your life!

And Had the Time of Our Lives.

John M. Anderson
Governor of Kansas

Members of the Board of Regents, standing from left: Whitley Austin, Dwight D. Klinger, W. F. Danenbarger, L. D. Morgan, Clement H. Hall, A. H. Cromb, Max Bickford. Seated: Clyde M. Reed, Henry A. Bubb, Ray Evans.

Fort Hays State College is one of the five tax-supported colleges and universities administered by a Board of Regents appointed by the governor. This year Wichita University will join the state system and will also come under the jurisdiction of the Board. This group sets policies, approves budgets and requests legislative appropriations for the institutions of higher learning.

Cunningham Serves FHS for Fourteen Years

Dr. M. C. Cunningham revealed his philosophy of education in his inaugural address 14 years ago when he said the college must assume the responsibility for teaching an appreciation of the good, the true and the beautiful, and to give meaning to the better things in life.

His stress on quality in Fort Hays State College's educational program has gained stature for the college in the academic world. Unwavering in his efforts, Dr. Cunningham has tried to bring to youth who come under the influence of this college, the finest possible opportunities for developing their highest capacities.

Noon hour brings a deluge of students out of Picken Hall, the oldest building and first administration hall on campus.

In tribute to the assassinated president, residents of McMindes Hall blacked out some windows and lit others to imprint JFK's initials on the north side of the six-story building. Other students gather outside to sing patriotic songs.

Harold Stones talks with Kennedy, who shook countless hands when he visited the campus in 1959 during his presidential campaign.

...“And so, my fellow Americans, ask not what your country can do for you — ask what you can do for your country.” ...

John F. Kennedy
Inaugural Address,
January 20, 1961

A TRIBUTE

In the death of the late President Kennedy, education lost a true and valued friend. He was one who sponsored and fought for better educational opportunities for all mankind. He realized that the success of a democracy is dependent upon the education and intelligence of its citizenry. His death should be a challenge to every American to become better educated and to use that education to carry on the principles for which he stood—equality, peace and good will among all mankind.

M. C. Cunningham
President of the College

Where We Worked . . .

The students at our college come from everywhere and to each Fort Hays State is something different. Yet all are bound in the pursuit of one common goal—attainment of an education. This is the force which directs our lives. We work hard—in conferences with instructors, in lecture classes, in individual study and in special research projects. Before we can realize, another year has slipped away—another year in preparation for a lifetime of work.

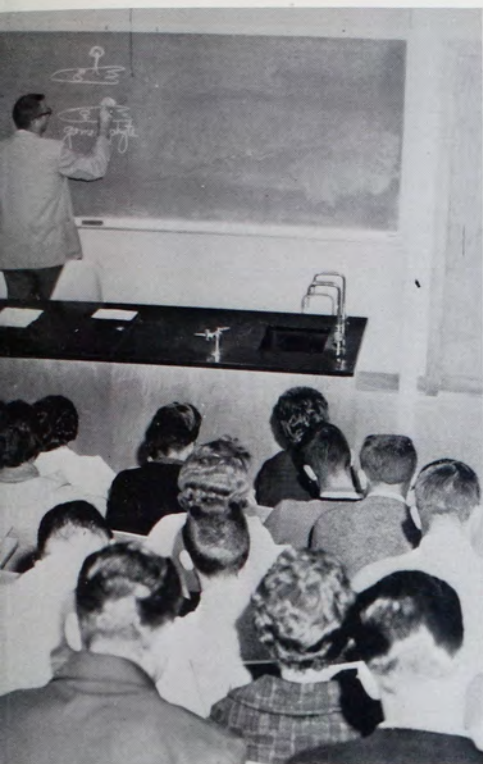

Complexities of Universe Challenge FHS Scientists

From the observatory of Albertson Hall, where astronomers watch the moon and the stars, to the feedlot on the college farm where agriculture students tend stock—students strive to understand the complexities of our universe. The demand for people trained in the biological and physical sciences is constantly growing.

At FHS this demand is evidenced in the addition to Albertson Hall, constructed two years ago, which doubled its size and added modern and extensive science facilities. Last spring the building was dedicated to Dr. Fred Albertson, long-time faculty member who was known internationally as an authority on grasses and range management. The subject fields for classes in this building are agriculture, astronomy, biology, botany, chemistry, geology, mathematics, nurse education, physics and zoology.

Future scientists research in a world of test tubes and laboratories at Albertson Hall.

Professor Eugene Fleharty diagrams the sexual stages of moss for a large group of biology students.

In human anatomy class, Lynna Lyda inspects the human skull and compares her findings with a checklist of parts.

Zoology students Lynnay Pammenter and Jackie Flake examine the internal organs of a slightly mutilated starfish which failed to survive an amateur dissection job.

Johnnie Locke weighs chemicals for an experiment on an analytical balance, one of the more sensitive scales used in chemistry courses.

Home economists, artists and students of industrial arts gather at Davis Hall, the center of creativity and workmanship on the campus.

Talented Minds Produce Creative, Practical Works

Whether put to a potter's wheel, a sewing machine or an electric saw, a pair of skilled, ready hands can produce and create. It is for these dexterous workmen that Davis Hall was built, for here there are opportunities for the talented and practical mind to express itself. Displayed in the hall showcases of the building are creations from the sewing rooms of the home economists, studios of the artists and the workshops of the industrial arts classes.

One is free to participate or enjoy, create or criticize. The Faculty Art Exhibition in December and the Student Art Show and Industrial Arts Fair in the spring are annual events.

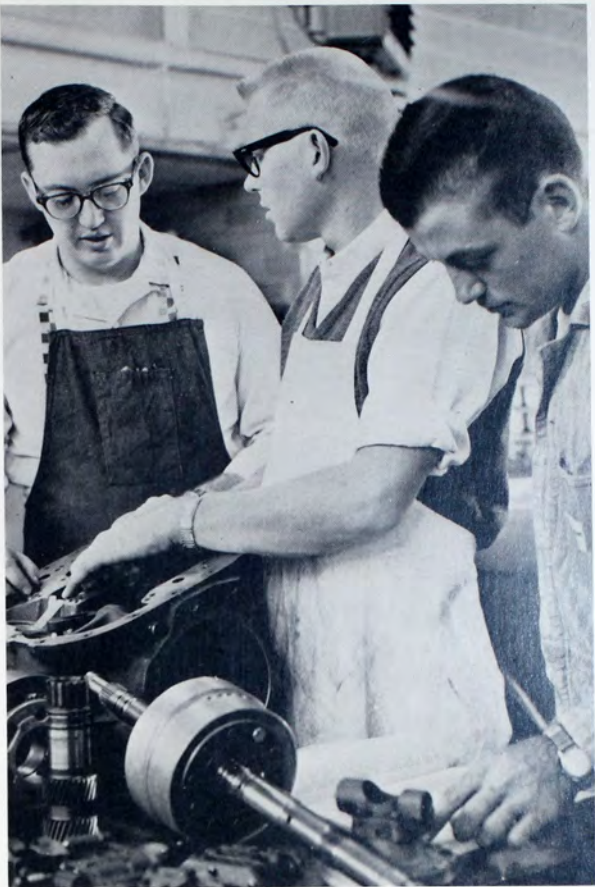

Davis Hall, formerly called the Applied Arts Building, was dedicated last fall to Edwin Davis, professor and head of the industrial arts department for 40 years.

Marilyn Metz, who is pinning Sharon Goetz's dress, discovers that tailoring requires much skillful calculation.

Ronald Hallagin, Eldon Lauxman and Pat McMahon determine straight lines with the T-square, an indispensable instrument in cabinet-making class.

Auto mechanics Melvin Kollman, Larry Jenisch and Larry Higerd find that skill as well as a book of instructions are needed to assemble the complex parts of an engine.

Equipped with pie pans, bowls, egg beaters and rolling pins, pie bakers Sally Ray, Beatta Maurath and Mary Garner combine ingredients in the Davis Hall kitchens.

Artists Jim Boyle and Marilyn Wilson use water colors and paint brushes to transfer the beauty of a tree to a sheet of paper.

Myrl Walker, director of museums, explains the fossil exhibits in the geology and paleontology museum to a group of summer students enrolled in a geology workshop.

Giggles and shouts usher from the natural history division of the museum, where children from local schools examine the well-preserved animals. Several thousand specimens of mammals, birds, reptiles, amphibians, fishes and invertebrates are displayed.

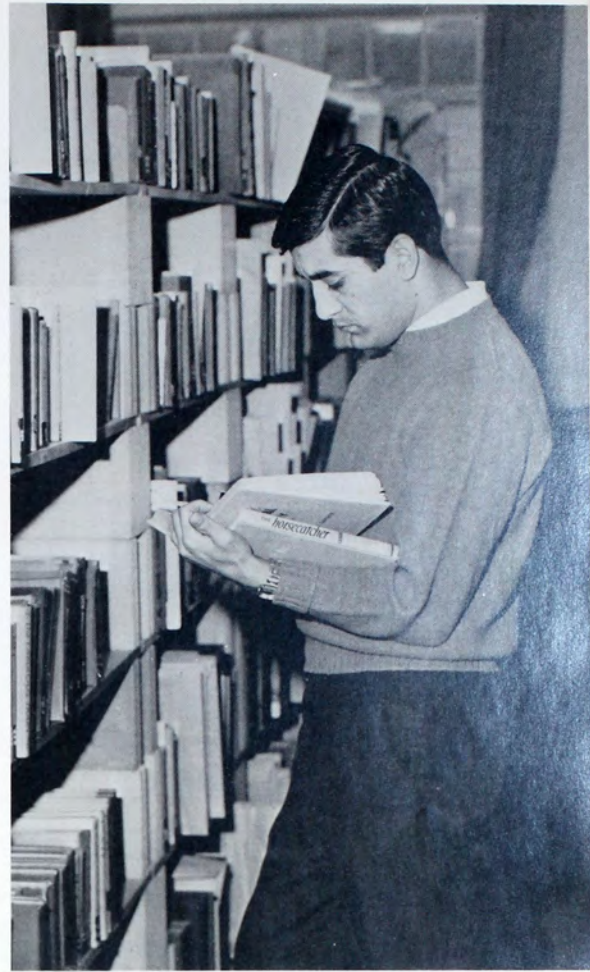

Forsyth Library, the nucleus of study, attracts campus scholars and visitors from Western Kansas schools and communities.

Campus Center of Study Also Attracts Visitors

Faces—some staring dreamily into space, other expressionless, a few with brows drawn tight in concentration—line the tables of Forsyth Library. From the congested aisles in the stacks to the bulging shelves in the documents department, students from diversified areas of study are probing, seeking knowledge from printed materials. Overcrowded conditions have prompted plans for a new building to be constructed across the street from the present library and expected to be completed by 1966.

Forsyth Library is a melting pot for visitors as well as students. A popular attraction is the museum, which is divided into natural history, geology and paleontology, prehistory and history, and the Elam Bartholomew Herbarium sections.

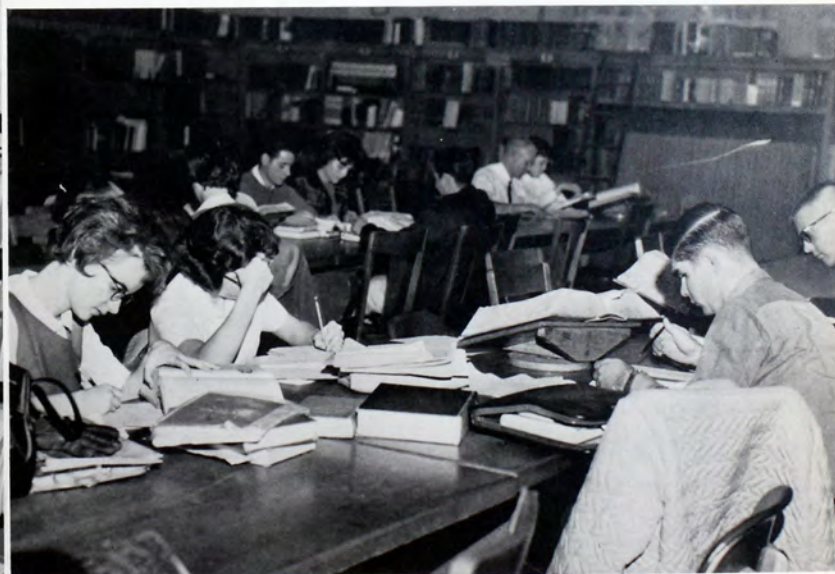

C. L. Magana consults the Western Collection, which consists of theses written by FHS students, books about Kansas and the West, and folklore.

Items published by the federal and state governments are filed in the documents department, where Francis Bieker pages through a booklet on taxation.

Although solitude is impossible, an atmosphere of quiet conducive to study prevails in the library.

Teachers, psychologists and philosophers are trained in the classrooms in Rarick Hall.

Student teacher Carol Tomasheck works with a reading class in the third grade while doing her teaching block.

Speech correctionist Jerry Pfannenstiel demonstrates pronunciation and urges his young students to imitate him while watching themselves in the mirror.

Fr. Earl Meyers, a practice teacher, explains the operation of an analytical balance to a high school chemistry student.

Students in Rarick Hall Concerned With Children

Rarick Hall serves children. Most of the students who study here are directly concerned with youth. In its classrooms future teachers, psychologists and philosophers learn methods and skills adaptable to the practice of their profession. Whether mastering the transfer of thought in teaching or understanding the process of thought in psychology, students in these fields are expected to keep apace.

FHS constantly surveys its teacher education program and steadily steps up requirements for acceptance in the field. Current progress has increased demands on the students (from aspirant kindergarten teachers to speech correctionists) and the quality and type of their preparation. Psychologists serve children too, for Rarick Hall houses the Psychological Service

Psychology researchers Bill Albott and Clara Fanshier test a subject on a memeograph, a machine which measures the capacity of the memory.

Center, which is available to children and youth of Western Kansas.

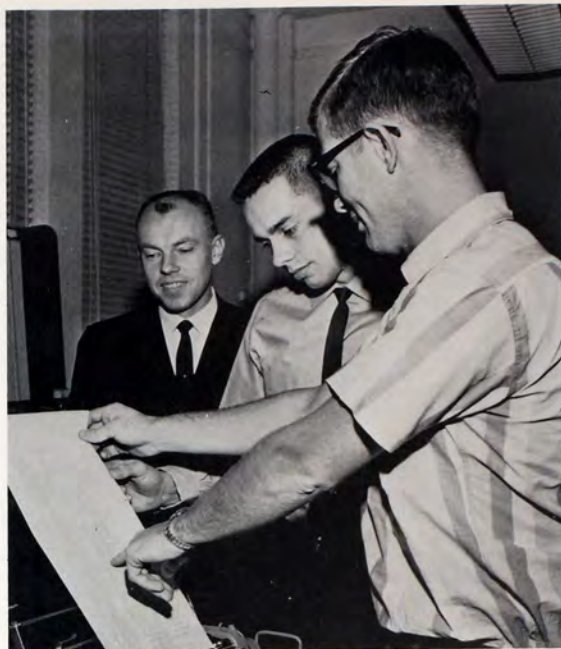

Rarick Hall, built in 1912 as an agricultural building, was later called the Industrial Building. In 1954 it was remodeled to house the division of education and psychology.

A prospective teacher watches the master teacher at work with her kindergarten class. Students have many opportunities to observe in pre-teaching laboratories.

KFHS radio operators prepare material for a program to be presented on KAYS television.

Reading data on a newly installed IBM machine in the IBM Center are Keith Faulkner, who teaches IBM courses, and two of his students.

Sheridan Coliseum, whose needs have long since outgrown its facilities, remains a landmark and is probably the best known building on the campus.

Coliseum Houses Varied Offices, Services, Classes

Sheridan Coliseum, home of the Tiger teams, is the most versatile, all-purpose building on the campus. It houses a gymnasium, executive and administrative offices, divisions of music and health, physical education and recreation, a radio station and the student health center.

Music floats (and blares) from the third and fourth floors; KFHS transmits programs to campus buildings and, in the studios on the second floor, special and regular radio and television presentations are born. Emergency care, health counseling and dispensary treatment bring every student to the health center at some time or other.

The women's gym, arena and the swimming pool are in almost constant use for sports events and physical education classes. Between times, there are assemblies, shows, professional entertainers and performers presented in the Artists and Lecture Series, conventions and other events which strain the facilities of the building, long conceded to be outgrown and inadequate.

Built in 1917, the Coliseum was believed to be a monstrosity which could never be filled. The fallacy in this belief was proved long ago.

College nurses Mrs. Frances Cook and Mrs. Inez Baxter give a student a flu immunization shot.

Tigers meet their opponents in the arena, where they have compiled few losses and many victories. To those who have been defeated here, the Tiger home court is known as the "Snake Pit."

Administration and Faculty

Behind every successful college or university is a good administration—executives of ability and dedication, working tirelessly for the betterment of each student and the college as a whole. Each executive, no matter what the scope of his administrative powers, bears responsibilities in common with his associates. All are charged with formulation of policies, setting and maintaining academic standards, establishing the budget and operating an institution which continues to grow at a rapid pace.

The faculty senate, the council of division chairman, the various committees and boards, the informal coffee sessions and the individual conferences play an important part in the joint procedure. The administrators keep Fort Hays State running smoothly, serving the youth of Western Kansas.

Faculty of 32 Teach Language, Lit., Speech

The division of Language, Literature and Speech is perhaps one of the most familiar to the general student population. Every student must take at least 12 hours of English and literature and three hours of speech. This division is also one of the broadest. It includes radio and TV, drama and journalism. Thirty-two faculty members teach these classes, many of whom have earned doctorates and some who have studied abroad recently.

Library Offerings And Staff Increased

Because of increased use of the library facilities and more students enrolling in library courses, the faculty has increased to eight in recent years. More courses than ever before are being offered in the field of library science.

Students obtain reading material for classes in the Reserve Room, where special books are checked out for a limited time only.

FHS Musicians Anticipate Move

FHS musicians are anticipating the move to Malloy Hall, expected to be finished in 1965. The new building will have more practice and classrooms as well as better facilities for performers. The music division had several additions this year, including the Collegian Chorale organized this fall. Increasing the stature of faculty performances are two new members of the staff, a bassoon specialist and concert pianist.

Summer Institutes Help Scientists Keep Abreast

The National Science Foundation provides summer institutes at FHS for high school chemistry and math teachers so they may keep abreast with changing developments in the field of science and mathematics. The faculty staff of the division of physical science also keeps pace with new knowledge. Dr. Harold Choguill studied recently in Europe and Dr. Doris Stage taught for two years in India, while on leave from FHS.

Nursing and Biological Science Have Strong Staffs

The 12-year-old nursing division, one of the newest programs of study on campus, was established by Leona Stroup, who is still head of its staff. Although its faculty is small in number, the division has an enviable record in that none of its students has ever failed to pass a state board nursing examination. Student nurses serve affiliations in Chicago, Topeka, Denver, Norton and Hays.

The preservation of grasslands, plant and animal life is of particular importance to the Great Plains area. Under such experts as Dr. Gerald Tomanek and his associates, graduates in biological science have excelled in this field and have gone on to a variety of positions. The health, physical education and recreation division offers a well-rounded curriculum with special attention to nurses, therapists, teachers and recreational directors. The women on the faculty, assisted by the Women's Recreation Association, sponsor women's intramurals. In addition to men's intramurals, the faculty handles eight varsity sports. This year FHS copped the first national award it has ever received at the NAIA cross country. And this year too, the first National NAIA contest (gymnastics) ever to be held at FHS took place in March.

Little Becomes Head Of Economics, Business

The economics and business division, one of the largest on campus in enrollments, has a staff of 17 members. The biggest adjustment this year has been the installation of IBM machines and the addition of curriculum courses in their operation. Other additions include an honorary organization for students who plan to teach busintess and Dr. Milburn Little, who joined the faculty as chairman of the division last fall.

Dozens of FHS economics and business graduates find their niche in the business world each year and many more go out into the high schools to teach their skills.

Loans and Aids Help Hundreds

More than 1,300 students receive benefits each year from the Student Aids Program.

The Endowment Assn., the Federal Defense Student Loan program, scholarships and other forms of assistance are administered by a corps of faculty members.

About 234 students received $45,835 worth of scholarships, athletic grants and other awards during the fall semester, compared to only $33,175 last year.

Every student is invited to help build the Endowment fund through voluntary contributions during enrollment. The Endowment Assn. distributed $409,206 to 1,911 students last year, deriving its funds from several special programs presented each year, proceeds from the Wooster Dinner, and generous gifts from alumni and friends of the college.

A total of 534 teachers were placed by the Placement Office in 18 states and 79 Kansas counties during the 1962-63 school year. The Placement Office assists both the students seeking jobs and the employers looking for workers.

Unquestionably, the Memorial Union is the busiest building on the campus. Not only is it a place to get a soft drink or cup of coffee, but, more important, it is the cultural and social center of the college. Full-time staff members serve as advisors and a board of students and faculty members formulate Union policies.

In addition to the services it provides students, faculty and staff, the Memorial Union also serves as a meeting place for hundreds of Western Kansans.

Faculty Pursue Academic And Professional Interests

Beyond their teaching responsibilities, faculty members have a duty to develop professionally and to pursue their own academic interests while serving the college, community, state and nation. Those on this page who were chosen at random, are teachers constantly striving for self-improvement so that they may be more qualified to train their students in the classroom. No matter what the area—researching abroad, writing a book or utilizing personal talent—the development of the teacher is vital to the maintenance of the college's academic stature.

Played . . .

A basketball game at FHS is more than an athletic contest; it is an extravaganza. The crowd, cheerleaders and band support a cast of star players. When the Bengals score, old alums and young students alike rival one another in a cheer of victory. Tiger teams and school spirit go hand in hand. On the basketball court, football field, wrestling mat, track, trampoline, tennis court, golf course or cross country—wherever Fort Hays Staters play—pride in our school, as well as our personal athletic abilities, sustains us through wins and losses.

The jubilant Tigers leave the field after winning the Homecoming game against a tough Emporia State team.

Jones Named to District NAIA And CIC Offensive Teams

Fort Hays State's football squad, plagued by injuries and drop-outs, established a 2-6-1 record for the 1963 season.

Head Coach Wayne McConnell, in his eighth season at FHS, was constantly changing the line-up with hopes of filling vacancies caused by injuries.

Junior guard Dave Jones was elected to the District 10 NAIA offensive team and the ALL-CIC offensive team.

Despite the loss of eight senior lettermen, the Tigers look forward favorably to the 1964 season. With the possible return of almost all gridders who saw action at the end of the season and several impressive transfers, FHS should be a much improved team.

Newcomers to this team dominated the annual squad awards taking four of six awards.

FHS 7 NORTHWEST MISSOURI 7

The Fort Hays State Tigers and the Bearcats from Maryville, Missouri, exchanged touchdowns in the first half and then staged a see-saw battle after intermission to come up with a 7-7 tie in the opening game of the 1963 season.

Burly Steve Worley was sent over from the one-yard line for the Bengals' only touchdown. Max VanLaningham kicked the extra point.

Bob Johnson scampers around right end with Emporia State players in close pursuit.

FHS 0 WESTERN COLORADO 42

Colorado Western wasted no time in scoring, with two touchdowns in the first six minutes of play. Later in the first quarter the Mountaineers scored another touchdown.

Plagued by fumbles and the inability to complete passes, the Tigers could not put together a substantial offense. Fort Hays State was held to a seasonal low in total offense at 128 yards.

FHS 14 KEARNEY STATE 26

Kearney State produced a determined rushing attack to pull away from Fort Hays State in the second half to win 26-14.

The Tigers had four good opportunities to score and upset the nationally ranked Antelopes, but were stopped by the visiting defensive line each time.

FHS 6 OMAHA UNIVERSITY 39

Omaha, sporting the biggest defensive line in college football, downed Fort Hays State, 39-6. The Indians' hefty line, which averaged 261 pounds per man, outweighed the Tigers by about 50 pounds per man.

The Tiger offense was hampered again by the absence of an effective passing attack. The Bengals tried seven aerials without a completion. The runners gained 192 yards, but were thrown for 60 yards in losses.

At Pittsburg, the favored Gorillas drove to a 28-0 lead before the Tigers managed to score. The contest was watched by an overflow homecoming crowd of 11,000.

Fumbles played a big part in the contest as six of the eight touchdowns scored were the result of eight fumbles. Both FHS scores came on fumble returns by halfback, Ronnie Morel and tackle, Dudley Fryman.

The official indicates that a first and ten has been missed by inches.

FHS 28 EMPORIA STATE 13

Led by the passing of freshman quarterback Bob Johnson and the running of halfback Jack Johnson, Fort Hays State stung the Emporia State Hornets, 28-13. The Tigers gained their first win of the season before a Homecoming crowd of 7,500.

Bob Johnson passed for 147 yards with tosses to Cliff Leiker for a 59-yard touchdown and Jesse Kennis for a 5-yard touchdown. Jack Johnson, playing the running halfback position, gained 104 yards in 19 attempts.

FHS 0 WASHBURN UNIV. 47

An injury-riddled Tiger team lost its CIC game to the Washburn Ichabods, 46-0. The loss left Fort Hays State with a fourth place finish in the conference.

The contest, played before Washburn's homecoming crowd, was a rough and tumble affair. Four Tigers were sent to the sidelines by the officials and another four players were injured during the first half of play.

Southwestern Oklahoma State came from behind for a 19-14 victory over FHS in a thrilling finale for both teams. The loss left the Tigers with a seasonal record of 2-6-1.

Fort Hays State took its halftime lead on two scores by Bob Johnson. Another score was nullified in the first quarter when halfback, Jack Johnson, raced 61 yards to paydirt, but a teammate was offside.

Cagers Win 10; Set Many Records

Fort Hays State concluded its poorest basketball record in six years, but set many team and individual records.

One starter, Sam McDowell, from the 1962-63 Tiger team that took fourth in the NAIA championships, along with four other returning lettermen and several transfers made up this year's team.

Despite finishing with a 10-9 record and a 3-5 slate in conference play, the Bengals averaged 87.2 points per game to better the old mark of 85.5, set in the 1962-63 season.

They hit 43.5 per cent of their shots from the field and connected on 71.8 from the free throw line, bettering previous marks of 42.0 and 69.4.

Seven individual scoring marks were set by senior sensation Sam McDowell who missed the last four games because of illness.

The other individual mark was set by Tom Ashleman in rebounds. He pulled in 21 caroms in one game to break the old record of 19.

Coach Suran has guided three teams to the NAIA tourney in the last six years and has totaled 259 victories and 138 losses in 18 years at FHS. This year was the first time in three years the Tigers have failed to qualify for post-season tourney play or won or tied for the CIC title.

The Bengals started the season with five victories before losing the CIC opener to Washburn and being dropped twice on a road trip to Colorado.

Returning to action at the Hutchinson Christmas Classic, the Tigers defeated favorite Central Oklahoma State before returning home to lose another CIC game, this time to Omaha. It was the first home loss of the season.

The staters won four of the next six games before losing McDowell. With their scoring punch gone, the cagemen lost the three remaining games.

McDowell and Larry Phillips are the only players lost this year by graduation.

McDowell Ends Brilliant Career With Nine Records

Coach Suran refers to Sam McDowell as "the best all-around player for his height I've ever coached. If there's a basketball move he doesn't have, I don't know what it is."

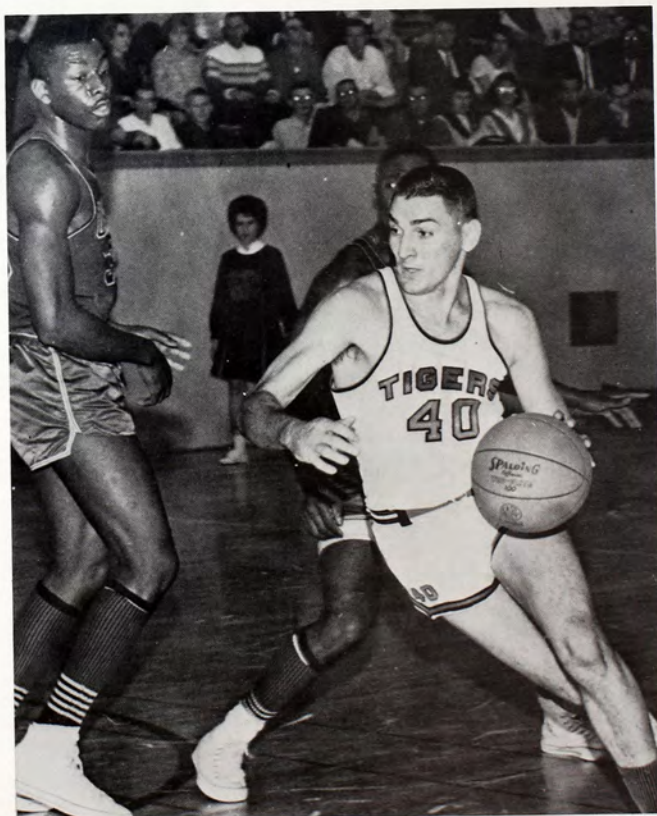

McDowell was named to the District 10 NAIA top 10 and earned first team all-conference recognition this season. He received honorable mention for conference honors as a freshman, but he was overlooked as a sophomore. He won a second-team CIC berth his junior year.

In spite of the fact that McDowell missed the last four games of the year because of illness, he still set the following records:

Most points in career: 1220
Most points in one game: 41
Highest season average: 24.3
Most field goals in one game: 17
Most free throw attempts in career: 625
Most free throw attempts in one season: 233
Most free throws made in career: 448
Most free throws made in one season: 169
Most free throws made in one game: 19

This foul in the closing seconds of the Southern Colorado game enabled the Tigers to go ahead for the 112-110 victory.

Ashleman stuffs in two points as two Colorado players standby, unable to do a thing.

FHS 83

SOUTHWESTERN OKLAHOMA 76

Fort Hays State opened the 1963-64 basketball season with an 83-76 win over the Bulldogs of Southwestern Oklahoma State.

Sam McDowell topped the Tiger scoring with 29 points and was followed by Tom Ashleman's 15. Gary Abercrombie threw in 29 for the Bulldogs.

FHS 112

SOUTHERN COLORADO 110

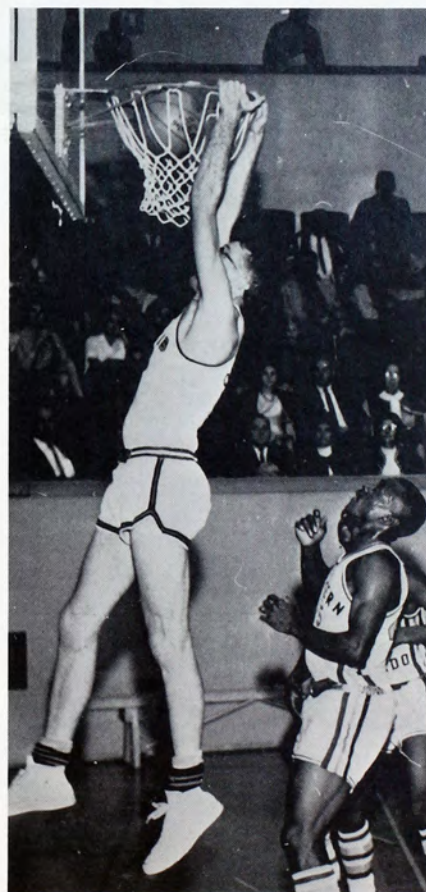

Against Southern Colorado's Indians in the next game, fans saw possibly the wildest game ever held in Sheridan Coliseum.

An all-time scoring record was set as the Tigers squeezed by Southern Colorado, 112-110.

These records were established:

- (1) Most rebounds by one player: 21
- (2) Most points by both teams in one game: 222
- (3) Most points by visiting team in one game: 110

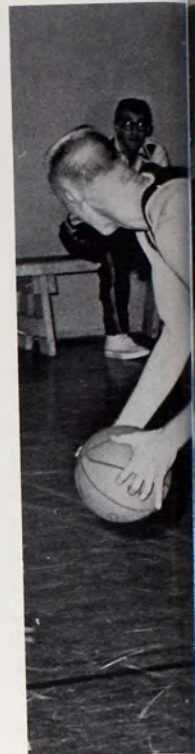

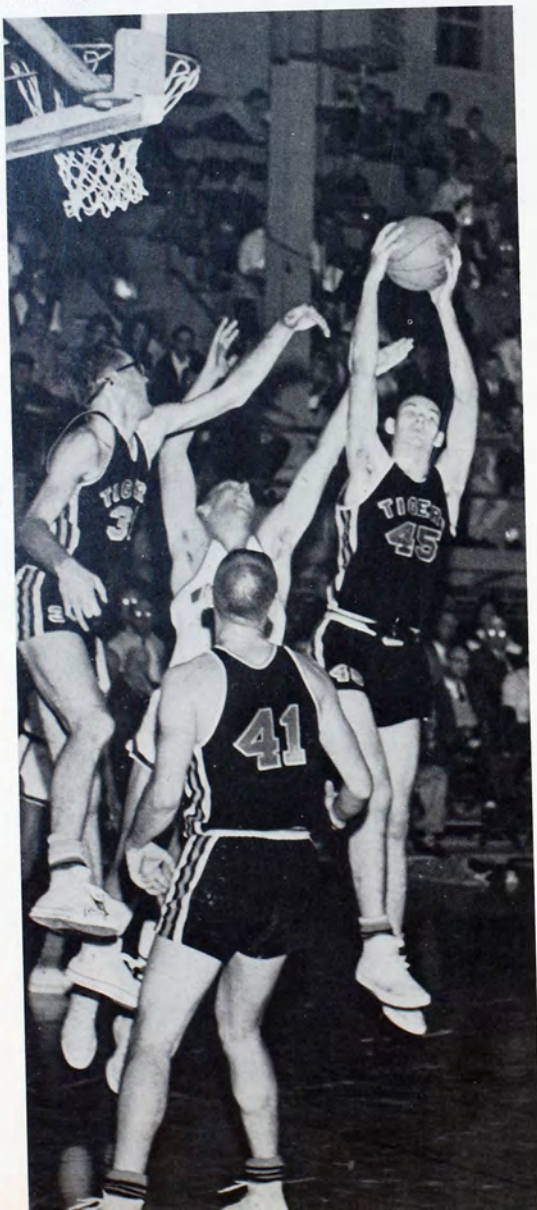

McDowell scored 29 points and Ashleman hit 25 and pulled in 21 rebounds.

Tension mounts on the bench as the Tigers fall behind in their scoring against Hastings.

Dick Schur goes high to pull down a rebound against Washburn.

FHS 49

KANSAS WESLEYAN 36

Kansas Wesleyan, playing a stall-type game, held the high scoring Tigers to a seasonal low of 49 points. During one stretch of 9 minutes and 38 seconds the Coyotes didn't take a single shot.

FHS was leading 36-33 with 2 minutes and 40 seconds left in the game when they went into the traditional wagon-wheel stall pattern. The visitors were forced to go after the ball and gave up 4 field goals and 5 free throws in the process.

Gordon Stout, Neal Kinlund, and Dick Schur led the home scoring with 12, 11, and 11 points respectively.

FHS 95

HASTINGS COLLEGE 72

FHS fell behind 30-19 in the first 5 minutes of play before battling back with 9 free throws and 3 field goals while the opponents scored only 3 points.

Holding a slim 40-37 halftime lead, the Tigers gradually increased their lead to the winning score behind the long shooting of Bill Royer and McDowell. McDowell had 31 points and Royer had 26 to lead the scorers.

FHS 103

KEARNEY STATE 73

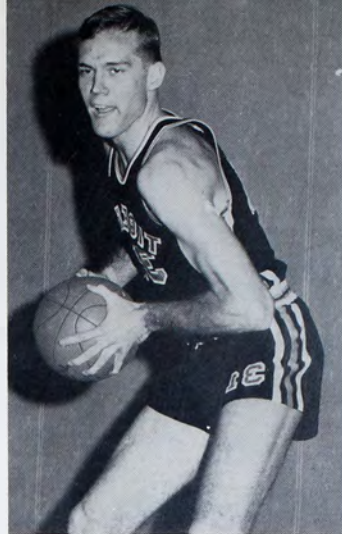

In their next outing against Kearney State, the Tigers put on a sparkling show as they downed the Antelopes 103-73.

Leading 56-41 at halftime, the margin grew to as much as 36 points as the Tigers steadily pulled away.

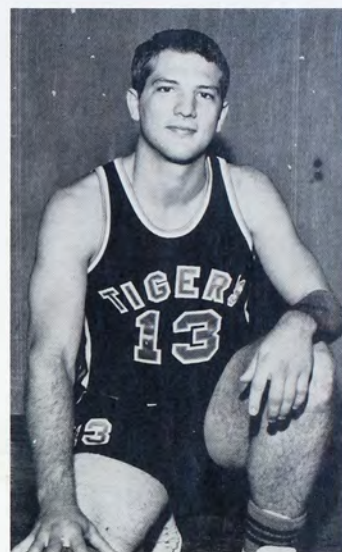

McDowell led the scorers with 27 points and every man on both teams, except one from Kearney, entered the scoring columns.

Benny Crawford (53) of Hastings has the wrong game in mind as he uses football tactics on Bill Royer.

TOM ASHLEMAN

GORDON STOUT

FHS 89

WASHBURN UNIVERSITY 93

Washburn University dumped Fort Hays at Topeka in the opening CIC clash of the season, 93-89.

The tall Ichabods, averaging 6'5" per man on the front line, dominated the Tigers' backboard. On many occasions FHS got only one shot at the basket before losing possession on the rebound.

Regulation play ended in an 81-81 tie and the score was tied four times in the overtime before the home team jumped out in front for the four-point victory.

Once again McDowell led the scoring with 26 points and was followed by Ashleman's 25.

FHS 96

SOUTHERN COLORADO 99

At Pueblo, Colorado, the Staters couldn't do anything right as Southern Colorado earned revenge for an earlier Tiger win, by defeating the visitors 99-96.

Hitting only 36 per cent from the field, FHS spotted the hustling Indians a 52-33 halftime lead.

With their most impressive one-half showing in years, the Bengals out-scored the home forces 63-47 in the second half while connecting on 71 per cent of their field goal shots.

FHS 90

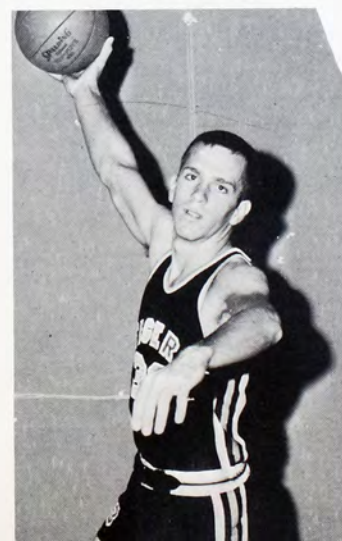

COLORADO STATE 94

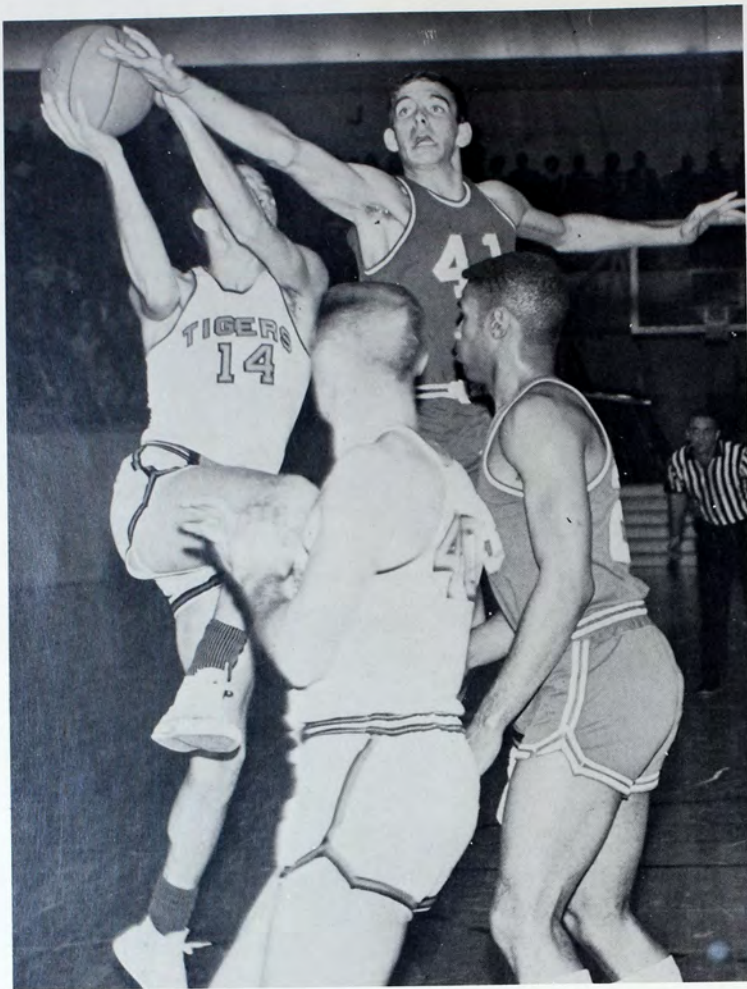

Against Colorado State, the Tigers met defeat for the third straight game, losing 94-90.

This game was in reverse of the previous one. The Bengals led 68-66 at halftime but slipped to a 36 per cent shooting average the second half and couldn't pull the game out.

McDowell and Schur led the scoring with 27 and 23 points, respectively. Ashleman led the rebounders with 17 caroms.

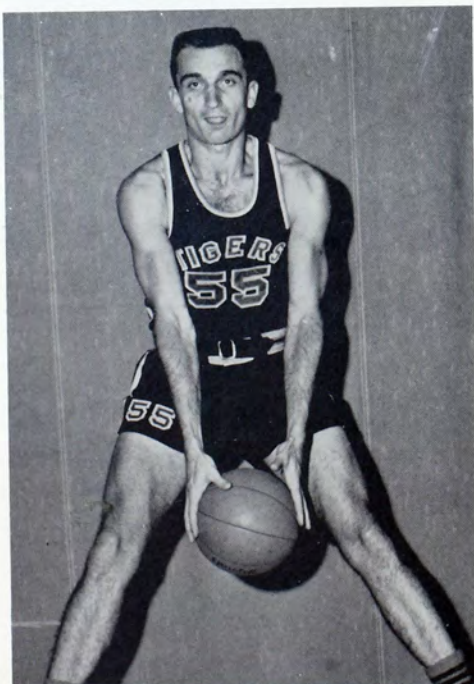

BILL ROYER

Kinlund drives in for two points despite the efforts of a St. Michael's player.

JUDE GERSTNER

CENTRAL OKLAHOMA 82

FHS's victory over Central Oklahoma was a true thriller. Down 10 points at half-time, 50-40, and trailing 14 on three occasions early in the second half, the Tigers slapped a full court press on the Oklahomans and pulled ahead, 66-65, midway in the last half.

Central spent the rest of the game trying to regain the lead, and the Bengals took advantage of the Bronco fouls. Hitting only 13 shots from the field the second half, the Tigers tossed in 28 of 32 free throws.

McDowell's 31 led the winners, while Luther Pegues had 21 for Central. It was Central's first loss in collegiate competition this year.

FHS 82

OMAHA UNIVERSITY 85

The Indians of Omaha University earned an upset CIC victory of 85-82 over FHS, despite a record-shattering 41 points by Tiger senior Sam McDowell.

It was a nip-and-tuck game all the way. The score was tied 10 times and the lead changed hands 13 times before the visitors pulled away in the final half minute of play.

The loss dropped the Tigers to an 0-2 conference slate.

FHS 79

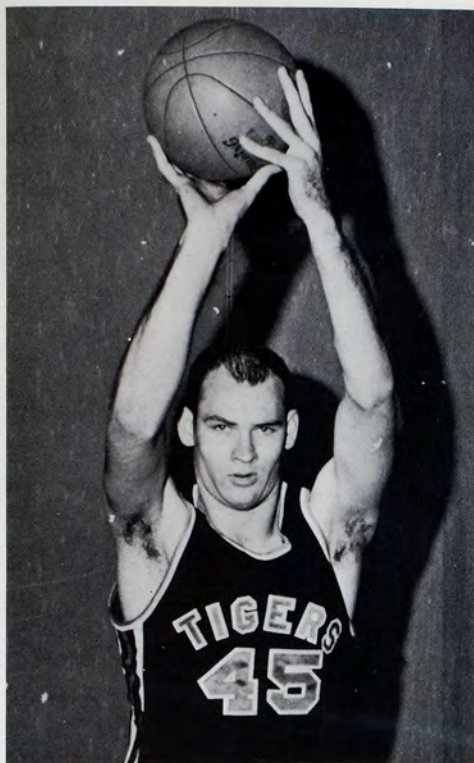

EMPORIA STATE 67

After losing 4 of the last five games, Fort Hays State upset CIC favorite Emporia State 79-67.

Emporia, ranked 12th in a national small-college poll going into the game, held a 60-61 lead with 10 minutes remaining in the game.

The Tigers scored seven field goals and held the Hornets to one point in the next 3½ minutes to grab a 65-51 lead. The home forces widened the gap after that, with the final score the biggest margin of the game.

Schur led the home team in scoring with 18 points and Ashleman added another 17 and pulled in 16 rebounds.

DICK SCHUR
2nd Team All-CIC

FHS 108

PITTSBURG STATE 93

Fort Hays State broke away from Pittsburg State midway in the second half and stormed home with an important 108-93 CIC victory.

The lead changed hands 20 times in the contest before the Tigers went ahead for good 65-63.

FHS steadily increased the margin behind the shooting of McDowell, Schur, and reserve Jude Gerstner, with the biggest lead being 17 points, 101-84.

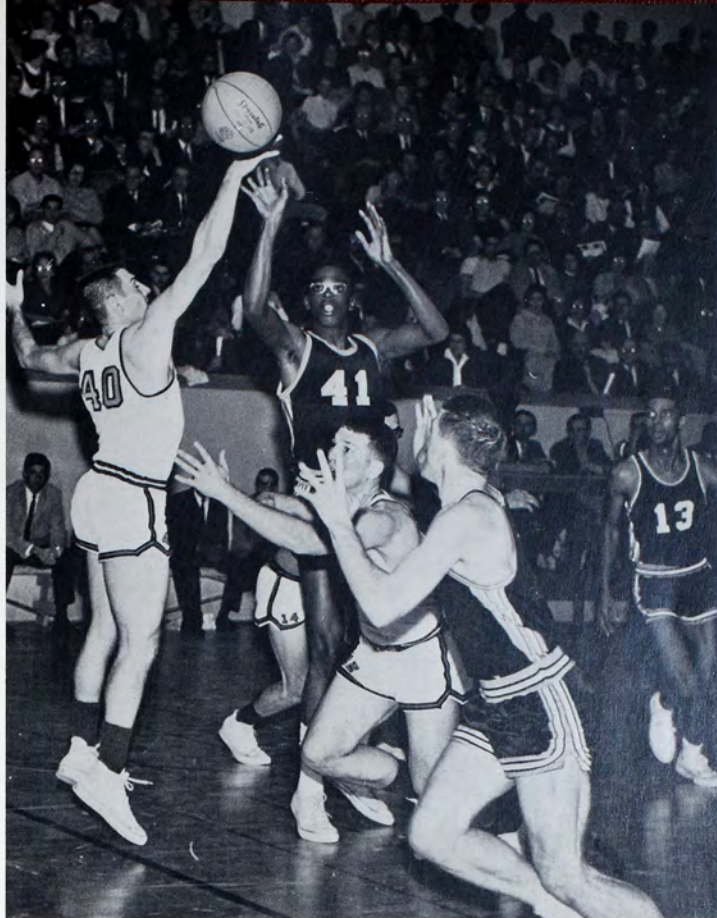

FHS 80

ST. BENEDICT'S 86

The Tigers, playing without the services of guards Kinlund and Stout, hospitalized because of a car wreck, lost to St. Benedict's 86-80.

FHS could not find the shooting range and hit only 36 per cent of their shots, as the Ravens tallied 55 per cent.

With Schur hitting 27 points and Gerstner and Johnnie Locke leading the rebounding with 16 and 13 caroms, the Staters still could not catch the home team.

Sam McDowell (40) blocks a pass of an Emporia player as Gordon Stout moves in to recover the ball.

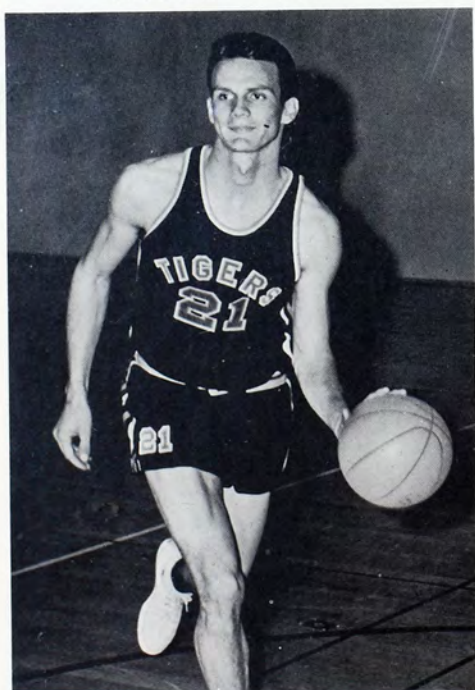

Bill Royer (32) ties up Ron Ford (33) of Washburn.

Royer (32) shoots for two points as Julian Fabry (41) of St. Michael's attempts to block the shot.

JOHNNIE LOCKE

FHS 71 OMAHA UNIVERSITY 86

At Omaha the Tigers shot wildly, hitting only 30 per cent of their shots, and trailed 51-25 at intermission.

Coach Suran hustled all 12 cagers into the lineup in hopes of finding a stop to the scoring problem.

Dick Schur had 27 of the Tigers' 71 points. Larry Villnow and Sam Singleton combined for 42 of the home team's 86 points.

FHS 95 WASHBURN UNIVERSITY 82

Gordon Stout and Neal Kinlund returned to action after their car wreck, and led Fort Hays State to a 95-82 victory over Washburn University.

Stout, who was averaging 12.5 per game until the car accident, fired in 22 points.

But Kinlund, averaging 4.5 per game, came off the bench to toss in 27 points. He had 10 tallies in the last 2 minutes and 19 seconds of playing, enabling FHS to move from a 79-75 lead to the final margin.

FHS 84 ST. MICHAEL'S COLLEGE 82

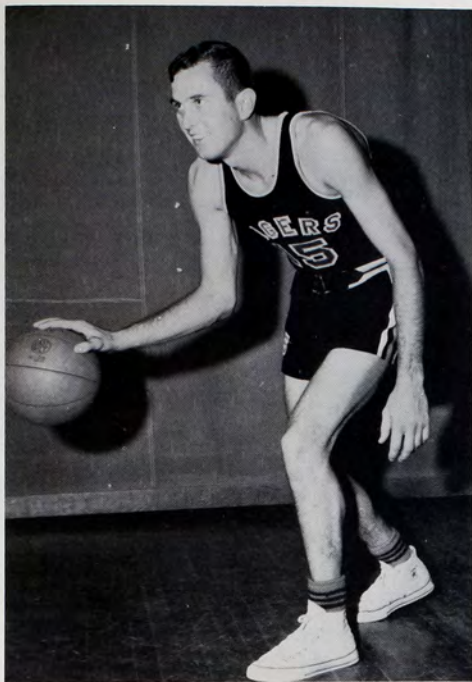

Tom Ashleman scored 15 points in the last 8½ minutes to enable the Tigers to slip by St. Michael's College 84-82.

The Knights controlled the boards the first half and took a 48-39 lead to the dressing room with them.

Ashleman finished the game with 32 points and 18 rebounds to lead both teams in both categories. His fine showing was necessary as the Tigers lost top scorer Sam McDowell because of illness.

It looks as if Locke (20), McDowell (40), and Schur (44) have joined in a free-for-all, but they actually are trying to retrieve the ball.

NEAL KINLUND

Ashleman (left) tips the ball back towards the basket as Fabry (41) of St. Michael's and Schur (44) wait for the rebound.

FHS 71

EMPORIA STATE 79

Fort Hays State was all but eliminated from the CIC title as Emporia State downed the Tigers 79-71.

The visiting Tigers led 43-35 at halftime, but the home team came back and shot in 65 per cent of their shots and slapped a tight defense on the Bengals.

Schur and Royer led the FHS scoring with 24 and 20 points, respectively.

FHS 83

PITTSBURG STATE 106

Pittsburg State broke from the opening tip-off and buried FHS, 106-83, in the final CIC contest for the Tigers.

The Gorillas, out rebounding the visitors 60-38, were led by center Jim Chroust's 30 points. Sophomore reserve Don Givens led the Bengals with 18.

FHS 98

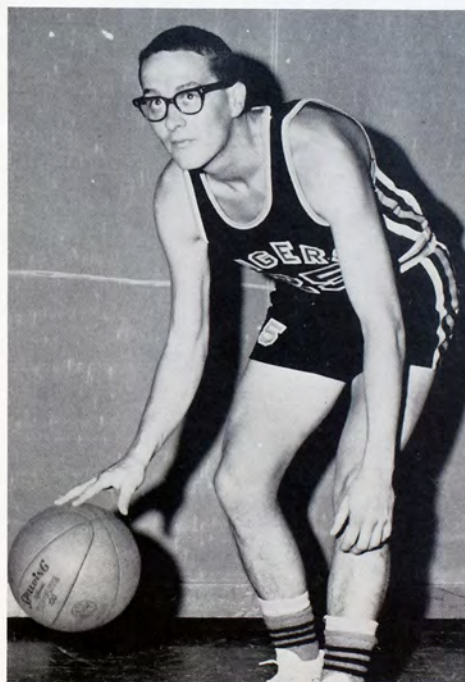

ST. BENEDICT'S 106

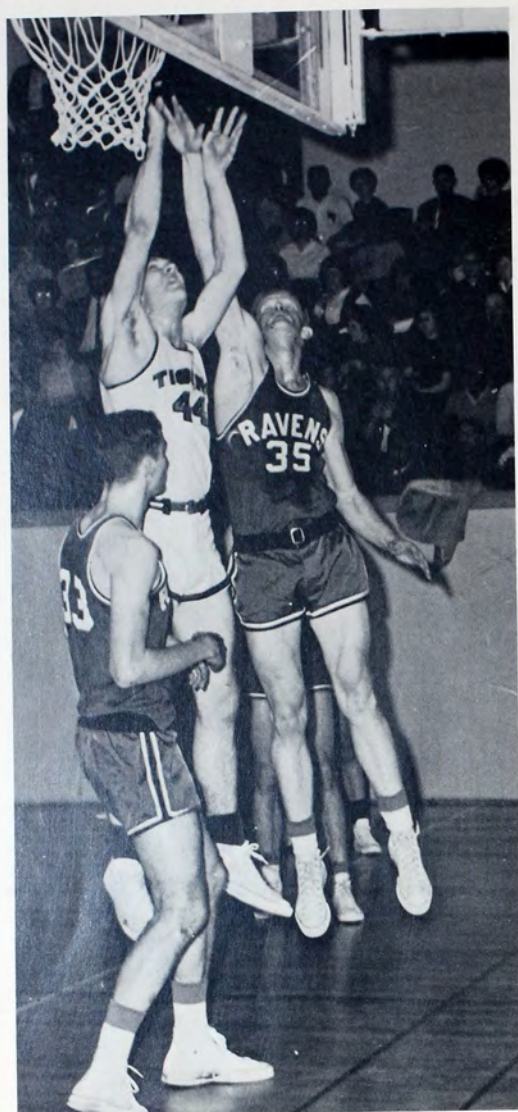

St. Benedict's tall Ravens outlasted a furious rally by FHS for a 106-98 victory in the final game of the season for both teams.

Down 100-76 with 6½ minutes left in the game, the Tigers poured in 20 points in less than 5 minutes to close the gap to 100-96.

The Bengals fouled desperately in an effort to gain control of the ball only to see the visitors ice it away on free throws.

LARRY PHILLIPS

Dick Schur (44) adds two more points to the Tiger cause.

DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS

Paul B. (Busch) Gross

Nominated in 1956 to Helms Foundation Hall of Fame for noteworthy achievement in NAIA basketball.

Outstanding Athlete Receives Gross Award

The Busch Gross Award honors Paul "Busch" Gross, now in his 34th year as director of athletics at FHS. Gross was a Tiger athlete from 1917 through 1921 and served as head basketball coach from 1930 to 1946.

A selection committee annually chooses the recipient of the award from a list of all senior athletes of the preceding school year. The award is based on each man's scholarship, leadership, character and athletic achievement while at Fort Hays State.

Junior Varsity — Mostly Freshmen — Completes Season With 12-3

Fort Hays State's junior varsity team completed one of the better seasonal records in the history of the school.

The freshman-dominated squad compiled a list of 12 wins and 3 losses under the coaching of senior assistant Don Reed.

Don Givens, the only sophomore on the team, led the young Tigers in scoring with a 19.6 average after becoming eligible the second semester.

Givens was followed in scoring by Jerry Maska with 14.7, Paul Graber with 12.8, and Ron Jamison with 12.7. Six players boasted a double figure scoring average for the season.

The three defeats came at the hands of Kearney State's junior varsity, 83-77, Sterling Junior College of Colorado in the Goodland Christmas Classic Tournament, 99-77, and Kansas State University freshman squad, 88-70.

The cross country runners won the first national championship in any sport for Fort Hays State when they won the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA) championship.

The Tigers, runner-up in three of the previous seven NAIA meets, out ran defending champion Emporia State and Howard Payne of Texas for the national title. FHS finished with 53 points to 69 for Emporia State and 82 for Howard Payne.

Don Lakin finished fourth in the field of 103 runners. The other Tiger finishers were Gerald Hertel, 7th; Lowell Smith, 13th; Charlie Rose, 17th; Jack Harms, 21st; Joe Twyman, 28th; and Dwight Gillespie, 32nd.

Although the FHS runners defeated Emporia State in the NAIA meet, it was a different story in the CIC meet. Emporia State beat the Tigers, 21-30, for its eighth straight conference championship. Since the sport was begun in 1956, the Tiger harriers have finished as runners-up every year but 1960. The Hornets of Emporia are the only team to ever win the conference.

The prospects for cross country look mighty bright to Coach Alex Francis. All seven men who placed in the NAIA meet are underclassmen and will probably return next year.

Cross Country Coach

Coach Alex Francis, in his eighth year as cross country coach, is a graduate and former athlete of Fort Hays State.

Netmen Tie for Fourth In CIC Meet Last Year

At Reveille press time the Fort Hays tennis team was preparing for the season's opener against Hutchinson Junior College. Ten players, including four returning lettermen, will play an 11-meet schedule.

Last spring the FHS netmen turned in a duplicate of the 1962 season, winning 3 and losing 7. However, they dropped a notch in the CIC championships to fourth place.

The Tigers lost the opening meet of the season to Hutchinson Junior College by a slim 5-4 margin.

Playing indoors because of bad weather, the tennis team won the first meet with a score of 4-3 against Kearney State.

The Bengals lost their next three meets to Bethany College, 5-2, Washburn U, 6-1, and KU, 4-2.

After defeating Kearney State, 4-2, the netmen lost two more matches to Emporia State, 4-3, and Pittsburg, 5-2, before upsetting Hutchinson Junior College, 5-4. In the last meet of the year, Emporia State bombed the Tigers, 8-1.

Washburn took the CIC meet with 15 points and FHS took fourth with 4.

FHS Hosts Gymnastics Championships

Fort Hays State gymnastics gained national attention this year as host school for the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA) championships March 20 and 21.

At Reveille press time, the Tiger gymnasts still faced a double dual meet with Colorado U and Wichita U, with a 4-4 record to date.

In review of the year's action, the Tiger acrobats opened the season with double dual victories over Kansas State U and Northwestern Oklahoma. The Bengals, taking first place in every event, outscored both opponents 86-25.

Competing in the Colorado U Invitational, the gymnasts took third place with 5 points behind Denver U with 68½ and Colorado U with 35½.

In the next three meets, FHS lost to Nebraska U 82-30, and defeated Kansas U 76-36, and Colorado State U 59-53, in a double dual.

The Bengals then lost dual meets to Colorado State U, Colorado State College, and Ft. Lewis A and M. Trounced badly by CSU, 76-35, and CSC, 83-29, the Tigers fell short by one point to Ft. Lewis, 56-55. Leading 49-46 going into the last event, the visitors were outscored 10-6 for the one point win.

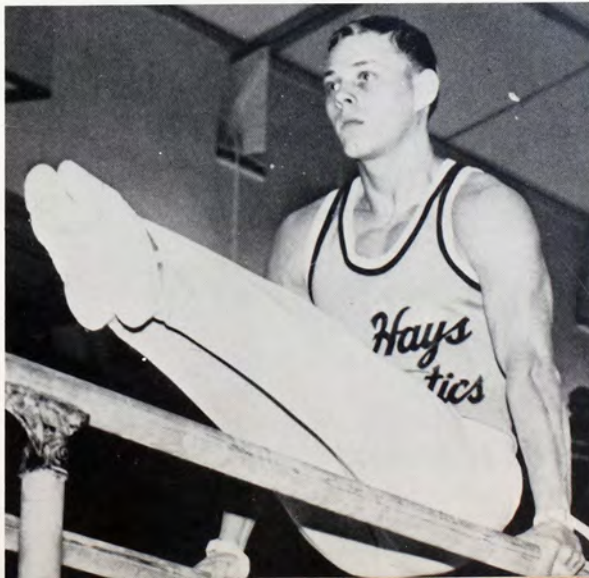

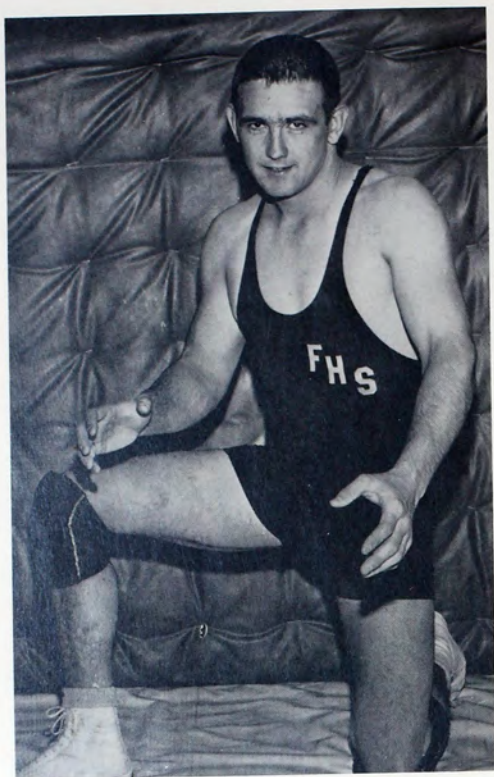

COACH ED McNEIL

Joe Johnson demonstrates the loop-dismount on the horse.

Gary Cooper performs the "lever" on the parallel bars.

JIM TINKLER

Jim Tinkler was named the outstanding wrestler in the Missouri Valley Association of the AAU for 1963.

Tinkler won the Missouri Valley AAU championship at 191 pounds in 1962 and walked off with the heavyweight crown in 1963.

He had a 7-2-1 record in dual competition in 1963.

Nine Lettermen Return

Fort Hays State's wrestling team won 8 of the first 11 duals under the coaching of Dave Winter.

Winter built a winning team from a squad of 25 prospects, including nine returning lettermen. Nearly half of the squadmen, 12, were freshmen.

Adams State dumped the FHS matmen 21-8 in the season opener for both teams. Adams State won 5 of 8 matches, including two pins.

The grapplers won two of the next three meets to even their dual record at 2-2. They beat Kearney State, 29-5, and Omaha U, 14-12, while losing to Big Eight power Nebraska U, 26-6.

Colorado University, ranked 10th in the nation before meeting the Tigers, buried the home forces, 28-5, in a meet that saw FHS winning only one match and drawing another.

Losing four men because of grades at semester and one more by way of injury during the Colorado meet, the grapplers raced to 6 straight dual wins.

They defeated Kearney State, 24-6, Trinidad College of Colorado, 20-13, Central Missouri State, 22-15, Kansas U, 26-8, Denver U, 18-13, and Ft. Lewis A and M, 23-13.

As the Reveille went to press, the grapplers had two meets left, one with Kansas State U and the other being the NAIA tourney at Spearfish, S. Dakota.

COACH DAVE WINTER

Prior to coming to FHS, he was wrestling coach at Newton, Kansas, high school for 5 years. In 1963 his New High grapplers won the Kansas state championship.

Graduating from Kansas State University in 1956 with a B.S. in physical education, Winter earned his master's at Indiana University in 1960.

Track Squad Prepares for Another Season

Coach Francis had 12 returning lettermen to form the nucleus of the 1964 track team.

In the only meet run before the Reveille press time, Kearney State downed the Tigers $78\frac{1}{2}$ - $63\frac{1}{2}$.

The Bengals established three indoor records. Tom Kindsvater set a new mark in the 220, winning in 22.7. The other two marks went to Don Lakin in the two-mile run and Lowell Smith in the mile. Their times were 9:31.1 and 4:22.5, respectively.

Bud Humphrey points out that Larry Flint needs to make a change in his stance.

Cindermen Finish Fourth in '63

In the 1963 season's indoor opener Kearny State earned its first dual meet victory over FHS in the history of cinder competition between the schools, 93-49.

The Tigers finished last in a quadrangular with Kearney, Denver, and South Dakota State scoring 67 3/5, 63 1/2, 43 7/10, and 37 1/5, respectively.

At the CIC indoor meet in Omaha, FHS preserved its record of never finishing lower than second in the five-year history of the meet. The Tigers took one first place in the mile relay. Emporia won with 70 points.

The Tigers earned three first places in the annual Kansas State U Indoor, winning the sprint medley, two-mile relay and the distance medley.

Outdoors, the cindermen entered the Texas Relays and the Emporia Relays. Bob Schmidt high jumped 6'7" and shattered the old school record of 6'4" at Texas.

Kearney State smashed a 31 year-old jinx as they slapped the Tigers 110-54 in a dual meet.

In the only Tiger home appearance, Emporia State scored a 79-53 victory. Two records went into the books, one in the 440-yard relay. Jon Day got the other with a 49.0 in the 440 dash.

FHS finished fifth in team scoring at the annual Colorado Relays and defeated favorite Wichita U in a dual, 76-68.

The Bengals finished a low fourth in the CIC championships. It was only the second time in 17 seasons that FHS failed to finish first or second.

Jon Day earned third in the 880-yard run for the only Tiger points in the NAIA championships.

Golfers Tie for Second in 1963

At Reville press time, a schedule had not been made out for the 1964 golf season. The Bengals had two lettermen of last year's squad that won 7 and lost 5 returning for action again this year.

In review of the 1963 season the golfers opened the season with a second-place finish in a four-team meet at Topeka. Washburn took first place, beating the Tigers, 14-1, while FHS defeated St. Benedict's, 9½-5½, and Emporia 8-7.

The Staters won the next two duals with Hutchinson Jr. College, 12-6, and Kearney State, 14½-6½, before being trounced by Wichita U, 19½-11½.

At Atchison the Tigers took second place in a three-team meet with Washburn and St. Benedict's. The golfers lost to Washburn, 9½-5½, but they buried St. Benedict's, 13-2.

Playing without number one player, R. J. Smiley, Bengal golfers defeated Hastings College, 12-3, and lost to Kearney State, 9½-5½.

A combination of varsity and B team golfers earned a split against Garden City Jr. College, beating them 11½-1½, and losing to Hutchinson Jr. College 11-10.

The golfers earned a tie for second place in the CIC meet.

Coeds Enjoy Recreation; Compete in 13 Sports

Women's intramurals, enjoying one of its best years, provides activity and recreation for all Fort Hays State coeds.

The IM program, sponsored by the WRA and directed by Judy Rinker, had more than 800 participants this year.

Competition is offered in 13 different sports: volleyball, touch football, archery, basketball, bowling, softball, swimming, jacks, golf, tennis, table tennis, badminton, and hand soccer.

Vicki Harlan and Danis McWhirter won badminton doubles.

The swimmers are off in an IM meet that was marked with many broken records.

Mary Anderson, second place finisher in the billiards tournament, takes dead aim on the cue ball.

Volleyball, a highly competitive sport, is one of the highlights in the intramural program.

Competition Keen in Men's I.M. Program

The competition in this year's intramural program was better than it has been in previous years. An estimated 1400 men (about 60 per cent of the men at FHS) took part in the intramural program.

FHS's program is set up to provide an opportunity for every male student on the campus to participate in some kind of competitive sports activity as frequently as his interest, ability and time will permit.

Participants compete in twelve different events: touch football, horseshoes, tennis, golf, swimming, basketball, table tennis, bowling, badminton, volleyball, softball and track and field. The organizations and independents participate in two different leagues with the winners of each league meeting for the championship.

... Made

Friends . . .

Besides giving us an education, college offers countless opportunities for making new friends. Our college world is made up of different people, but we learn to appreciate and respect individuals who do not share our viewpoints. True friendships, which will not be forgotten when college days are over, grow out of our contacts in fraternities, sororities, professional clubs, religious organizations and residence halls. These are the people who give Homecoming its special meaning. Already we are making plans to see them again.

AIDING THE ESTABLISHMENT OF ORGANIZATIONS like the United Christian Fellowship this year is only one of the functions of the All-Student Council. ... Where We Earned Academic Honors

Growth in higher academic standards at FHS is evidenced in the fact that honorary groups are increasing steadily in number. New on campus this year are the Spurs for sophomore women, Pi Omega Pi for future business teachers, and a revision of the honors program. Honoraries chose outstanding students—those who show promise of leadership, potential service and special skills, as well as proven scholarship. As a rule, students with high grades are also those who contribute to the overall picture of the college, who engage in student activities and belong to organizations.

Phi Kappa Phi, Scholastic Honorary, Chooses Top Seniors and Graduates

SCHOLARSHIP AND POTENTIAL contribution to society are the criteria for election to Phi Kappa Phi, national honorary scholastic fraternity.

A parallel of Phi Beta Kappa, Phi Kappa Phi is chartered in colleges and universities offering applied arts and sciences.

Members elected are seniors, graduate students, and outstanding faculty members, chosen from the top 12½ per cent of the graduating class.

Twenty-two persons were accorded this highest academic recognition during the first semester with additional members elected in the spring semester, after the Reveille had gone to press.

Thirty-Three Scholars Represent FHS in 1964 Edition, Who's Who Among Students

THIRTY-THREE FORT HAYS STATE STUDENTS were elected to be represented in the 30th edition of Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges.

The Who's Who publication has a dual purpose: to recognize deserving students, and to furnish a reference file for employers looking for above-average employees.

Scholarship, citizenship, leadership, participation in campus activities, and general service to the college are the criteria used in selecting students for this honor.

The college faculty elected 18 women and 15 men from the 96 seniors who had a 2.0 cumulative grade index.

Seventh Cavalry Leads Parade in Full Uniform

NAMED FOR GENERAL CUSTER'S FAMOUS REGIMENT, Seventh Cavalry re-creates the image each year as it leads the Homecoming parade in the traditional uniforms.

Publishing the student directory and selling popcorn at sports events are the group's two money-making projects. Each year Seventh Cavalry donates money to the Endowment Association for student loans.

A new project this year was the publication of a newsletter which was sent to all Seventh Cavalry alumni.

UNIFORMED IN NEWLY PURCHASED BLACK BLAZERS, members of WLO acted as campus hostesses for many events during the year.

To further interest in scholarship among women, WLO helped organize a new honorary-service group, SPURS, for sophomore women.

The 15 senior members of the honorary-service organization operated a tutoring service and ushered at Artists and Lectures programs.

To raise money for their scholarship fund, members made and sold decorated soap, Santa candy dishes and other Christmas gifts. They also sold decorated post cards to earn money.

Ushers Cinda Wilson and Sharon Doane look over the program before one of the Artists and Lectures events.

... Where We Joined Campus Organizations

All-School organizations, lending their part to the overall development of the individual, offer practical opportunities in organization and management of student activities. Equally as important as a lesson in leadership, is a spirit of cooperation and a feeling of self confidence gained by participation in student groups. At the Memorial Union's Activities Merry-Go-Round in the fall, students signed up for everything from swimmers' Penguin Club to SNEA. No matter what the student's special interest or talent, there is a campus group for him.

Students Visit Europe, Mexico on P-t-P Trips

A. Donto, FHS student from Tibet, visits a local family for a holiday dinner.

PEOPLE-TO-PEOPLE, organized only last spring, has already initiated some noteworthy programs. Last summer two students went to Europe and another to Mexico on People-to-People trips. Since the organization is a voluntary effort of private citizens to advance the cause of international friendship, the travelers assumed their own expenses.

To help foreign students get settled, the group scouted for jobs, and to acquaint them with local families in their homes, People-to-People originated the holiday-visitation program.

Preparing books for shipment to Asian students are Ken Nelson and M. M. Patel. People-to-People collected books of all types for the project last spring.

... Where We Built Religious Strength

Evidence of the value of religious organizations at FHS was shown this year by the establishment of a new group, United Christian Fellowship, and the swelling membership roll of the Newman Club and other denominational groups. Religious activities not only stimulate spiritual development, but also offer friendship and an opportunity to serve others. One of the UCF's major projects this year was work with the patients at the Larned State Hospital. Hays churches cooperate and encourage campus groups so that hardly a student lacks a place to worship, to complement intellectual development with spiritual growth.

UNITED CHRISTIAN FELLOWSHIP, made up of seven Protestant denominations, utilizes the ideas of students and faculty in initiating projects giving people a chance to show concern for religion on the college campus. Back row, from left: Dorothy Scovil, Rev. Wesley Foundation Members Visit State Hospital

CURRENT RELIGIOUS PROBLEMS are discussed by members of the Wesley Foundation in regular Sunday evening sessions. In addition, the Foundation holds retreats and conducts a social service program, visiting the Larned State Hospital and sponsoring parties for the patients.

Newmanites Join Day of Prayer

FHS NEWMANITES joined Christians everywhere in the World Day of Prayer. The group met in the Memorial Union for special prayers and meditation.

Regional and provincial conferences are held annually by the Newman Club. Marymount College in Salina was the site of a regional conference in the spring.

Other activities for the year included strong participation in intramurals, socials and a caroling party.

... Where We Enjoyed Group Living

McMindes Hall, towering six stories over the campus, opened in the fall. The 315-student hall for women has greatly eased housing problems on the campus and a second wing to the building is planned. Women living in the new dormitory enjoy the latest innovations in residence hall planning. Compact rooms, two elevators, central air conditioning, and an intercom are just some of the modern features.

Construction Begins on New Apartments

To meet the increasing demand for married student housing, two more apartment buildings, which will accommodate 36 families, are under construction. The buildings, each with 18 apartments similar to the 48 in Wooster Place, will be three-story stone structures across the street from Wooster.

Although fraternity and sorority rush affects only a small percentage of the students on campus, the tension and excitement is felt by all. It is a time of confusion, rumors, disappointment, fun and joy. It is pressured and hectic with smokers, open houses, skits and impressive preference parties. But when it's over, four sororities and seven fraternities are delighted with their new pledge classes.

Fraternities Earn Scholastic Award

National Interfraternity Council gave the local IFC a scholastic award for the spring semester. The six fraternities compiled a 1.29 grade index, which is higher than the average in past years.

IFC encourages fraternities to strive for higher scholastic achievement and participate in campus activities. Presentation of traveling trophies to the pledge class and active chapter with the highest grade average is made each semester. High averages among fraternities for the spring semester, '63, were made by Sigma Phi Epsilon actives with 1.72 and Delta Sigma Phi pledges with 1.84.

A major event of this year was president Don Vlasz and Dean of Men Bill Jellison's trip to the national IFC convention in New York as representatives of the FHS council.

Panhellenic Aids New Sorority

Panhellenic Council concentrated efforts toward the establishment of Alpha Xi Delta on campus this year. In January, Panhellenic entertained the sorority's house council, province director, expansion director, alumnae and collegiate members from Kansas State University. By February the sorority was ready to hold open bidding.

Establishment and regulation of rules pertaining to rush week, pledgship and initiation are regular functions of Panhellenic, which is composed of the four social sororities. In November the council presented information about rush week to prospective pledges at Greek Week.

Panhellenic carried out a Halloween theme in Greek Week and served apple cider and doughnuts after the rushees had been briefed about rush week regulations.

To raise money this fall, Alpha Gamma Deltas set aside one work day for a car wash and another for cleaning Greek houses.

Besides a busy work schedule, AGD's had a wide-ranging social program this year. The sorority entertained the house-mother at a tea in September and alums on Homecoming. Hour dances, caroling parties, exchange dinners, card parties, an informal and the traditional Feast of Roses, a spring formal and farewell to seniors, completed the Alpha Gams' social season.

Competing with other Greeks and living groups, Alpha Gams won second place in Greek Sing last spring and second for their Homecoming float this fall. They also had 1963 Homecoming Queen Jane Schnobelen and a representative in the cheerleading line-up.

As a money-raising project, ambitious Alpha Gams set aside a work day to clean Greek houses. Mary Ann Schnoebelen, Sandy Whitmore and B. J. Cooley give this kitchen the treatment with cleaner and sponges.

Jane Schnoebelen and Bonnie Kingsley put a hard-earned Follies trophy on the mantle for proud display. The AGD's and TKE's captured the follies sweepstakes for their "Greek-Side Story" last spring.

The Delta Zetas started off the school year with a new home. The house, which shelters 21 women, was remodeled last summer.

November was a big month for the DZ's, who pledged 20 women after rush week. In December the DZ's had Reveille Queen Rogene Peters; Jane Wood reigned as Pledge Queen over all pledges on campus, and the sorority entertained their dates at the annual winter formal, Candyland.

Other social events during the year included two informals and a spring formal. Parents and alums had a chance to visit the new DZ house on Parents' Day and Homecoming.

For service projects, DZ's sent gifts to patients at Larned State Hospital and Carville Hospital. The group also sent clothing to a Navajo Indian Mission and money to Galleaudet College (a school for the blind).

Delta Omicron Chapter gave service to elderly people in the Golden Years Club. The Sigma Kappas provided entertainment for club meetings and made hospital visitations.

To fortify their contribution to the national philanthropy fund, the sorority held a rummage sale.

Unlike the other sororities on campus, Sigma Kappas held a formal preference party and did away with theme and costuming. During rush week, the chapter had the advice and guidance of a national traveling secretary.

Two national awards, the Endowment Fund Award and the National Award of Recognition, were given to the Sigma Kappas for chapter accomplishments.

Sigma Kappa, chartered in the spring of 1959, is the youngest sorority on campus.

Tri Sigmas hosted a national officer in the fall. To acquaint her with the FHS campus and its Greeks, the group sponsored an All-Campus Tea and invited campus officials as well as representatives from all the fraternities and sororities.

Service projects had special emphasis this year. To put its motto, "Sigma Serves Children," into practice, Tri Sigma made weekly visits to the patients at St. Anthony's Hospital, decorated Christmas trees at Hadley Hospital, and shined shoes on the morning of the Sweetheart Ball to raise money for the children's wing at a hospital in Chapel Hill, N. C.

Tri Sigmas won Greek Sing and the scholarship plaque last spring, and captured first place in the Women's Division for their homecoming float last fall.

Delta Sigma Phi made a special effort to do social service work this year. The group traveled to the Larned State Hospital where they played football with the hospital's intramural team and Delta Sig pledges decorated Hadley Hospital for Christmas.

Gamma Omicron chapter has a wide variety of accomplishments to its credit. In the area of scholarship, Delta Sigma Phi received the IFC pledge scholarship trophy for the spring semester of last year. In intramural play Delta Sigs captured first place in touch football. The fraternity also won first place in the men's division of Homecoming float competition and sponsored Homecoming Queen, Jane Schnoebelen.

Annual social events are the Sailors' Ball, White Carnation Ball and Sphinx Ball.

Zeta Chapter gained national recognition at Sigma Phi Epsilon's semi-annual conclave last summer, where the chapter received the outstanding chapter award for a tri-state district including Kansas, Nebraska and Missouri.

Topping the list of social activities was the Golden Heart Ball in the spring. Other events were the Blue Mountain Blast informal, a Christmas caroling party, exchange dinners, card parties, hour dances and Homecoming activities for alums.

Last spring the Sig Eps won the trophy for the chariot races and took first place in Greek Sing.

Eta Tau Alpha Chapter of Sigma Tau Gamma

Hour dances, exchange dinners, an informal, the annual White Rose Formal, and a hootenanny with the women of Custer Hall made up the Sig Tau's social schedule this year.

Homecoming found the Sig Taus entertaining alums at a Homecoming dance and building a float for the parade.

Social service took the form of helping with a survey conducted by the city. Sig Taus counted cars and pedestrians at elementary and secondary schools in Hays.

Although Sigma Tau Gamma is one of the oldest fraternities on campus, the house is the newest. Sig Taus are buying a house which they moved into only last spring.

Besides a full schedule of social activities, TKE's took on a complete intramural program and won volleyball, track and softball events.

In the fall the Alpha Upsilon Chapter received the TKE international scholarship award for supremacy on a medium campus.

Taking pride in community service, the TKE's were campus blood donors, sponsored the FHS lake retreat candy drive and assisted Hays police with a traffic survey at a school crossing.

The TKE's have the distinction of being the only fraternity having an official mode of transportation. An antique fire truck takes the Tekes to lake outings, parades and other special occasions.

... Where We Found Ways to Express Ourselves

At FHS there are constant opportunities for the artistic, talented and cultured mind to create and criticise. Talent is expressed, not only in the more obvious fields of art and music, but also in the area of mass communications. Students with a flair for journalism may join the Leader and Reveille staffs, while those with a literary leaning can contribute to the Sheaf, a fiction and poetry booklet.

Whatever the media, students find a place and a way for self expression of thought and impression.

Task of Leader Demands Responsible Staffers

To inform, entertain and mold student opinion is the commission of the State College Leader. Such a task is not easy, for it entails a great deal of responsibility. The Leader reaches hundreds of students, faculty, parents, alumni and advertisers every week.

Leader staff members have an opportunity to learn from experience—and mistakes—what the business of journalism is all about. Their work is put before all to see and judge.

The Leader has received numerous "A" ratings in recent years from collegiate newspaper critique services.

Editor Norman Brewer and Jerry Demel brief The Leader staff reporters.

Four photographers must be better than one. Serving the News Service, Leader and Rev-eille, these specialists take thousands of pictures annually. Marla Morgan poses for Rex Vonachen, Sam Houston, Lorraine Jackson and Joe Schon.

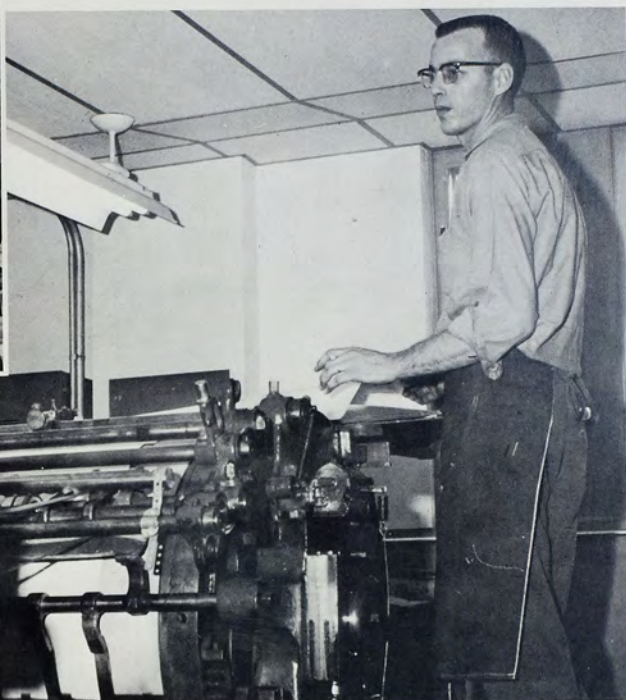

"We'll have to change this part," says Malcolm Applegate to second semester society editor Marla Morgan. Jim Uht is running the linotype.

Weekly jobs of business manager, Joe Whitley, and first semester society editor, Suzanne Day, are planning the ad sections and collecting Greek news.

At left: Editor Norman Brewer, advisor Malcolm Applegate and news editor Martha Roberts go over an important story. Below: Bob May supervises the final printing process.

Circulation of The Leader is taken care of by Richard Boyle.

Examining their work in print are sports assistants Eldon Palmberg, Steve Larson and Bill Scott.

Sports editors of The Leader and Reville, Floyd Anderson and Larry Cole, compare notes.

21 Yearbook Staffers Put Out '64 Reveille

Probably the largest financial undertaking of any student project is the Reveille. Yearbook staff members are volunteers, most of them working without pay or academic credit. Theirs is a year-long task, to know FHS and to tell its story within 336 pages. In May when the printed product arrives, all the time and effort that went into the planning and preparation of the Reveille seem worthwhile.

Reveille staffers Candy Mitchell and Diana Evans shuffle through the files for the correct name and classification of a picture.

Joe Schon, News Service photographer, took all organization pictures for this volume of the Reveille.

Trylla Klinzman and Grable Ford prepare copy sheets, check pictures and names.

Housing editor, Bob Boden, Greek editors, Linda Skelton and Pat Mermis, and housing editor, Robin Parker, plan page layouts for their sections.

Mac Reed, editor, and Arlene Goetz, copy editor, pack up the Reveille copy sheets for shipment to the publisher. Carol Miller and Linda Ohlemeier finish their organization pages.

Not pictured—but important to the preparation of this book—Gloria Dizmang, who drew the hour glasses; News Service photographers, who took innumerable candid shots; and Ted Tow, sports publicist, who supervised the sports section.

Mary Lou McDowell, Sharon Sramek and Bobbie Barrows, class editors, find that keeping 2,800 names and pictures in order is no easy task.

Discussing the financial situation of the yearbook are Gary Nagel, business manager; Mrs. Katherine Rogers, advisor; and Shari Forbes, circulation manager.

Debaters Travel Far for Tourneys

Debating offers not only an intellectual challenge, but also a chance to travel. FHS debaters have attended tourneys at universities and colleges as far as Arizona, Massachusetts and Texas. Representing the college this year were veterans Rex Gaskill and Jone Burris, and junior debaters Steve Tramel, Richard Scott, Cheryl Bentley and Connie Leuty.

Music and dramatics are other areas where students find ample opportunities for self-expression. Some vocal groups (Fort Hays Singers) are specifically organized for music majors and other like the Impromptuos for non-music majors. If dramatics is his particular forte, the student may join the casts of the all-student and Little Theater productions.

Above: Debate coach Jim Costigan and senior varsity debaters Jone Burris and Rex Gaskill show some of their victory trophies. Below: Steve Tramel and Richard Scott, men's junior division team, won two out of the final three rounds at Southwestern University, taking second in the tourney.

Members of the Fort Hays Singers wore costumes for their touring show, which included selections from "Carnival."

Little Theater actors Susan Brown, Merlyn Reichel and Roger Younger rehearse a scene from "Inherit the Wind."

... Where We Chose Our Favorites

Being chosen a campus favorite is a distinct honor, for it reflects the opinion of fellow students. Although the Reveille Queen is traditionally named by a celebrity, Homecoming and Sweetheart royalties, Leap Week's Bearded Joe and Daisy Mae, and the Leader Lasses are selected by popular vote.

... And Had the Time of Our Lives.

In some ways Fort Hays State is no different than any other college. Like all students, we will remember final week, first impressions of a professor, the burden of English themes and newspapers from home. These are universally collegiate. But in other ways FHS is unique. We can look back and remember singing the Alma Mater with the pep band after basketball games, making preparations for the big game with Emporia, attending Mary Maude Moore's Poise 'n Ivy show, and commencement in the Stadium. These things are Fort Hays State and we were a part of it all—here we had the time of our lives.

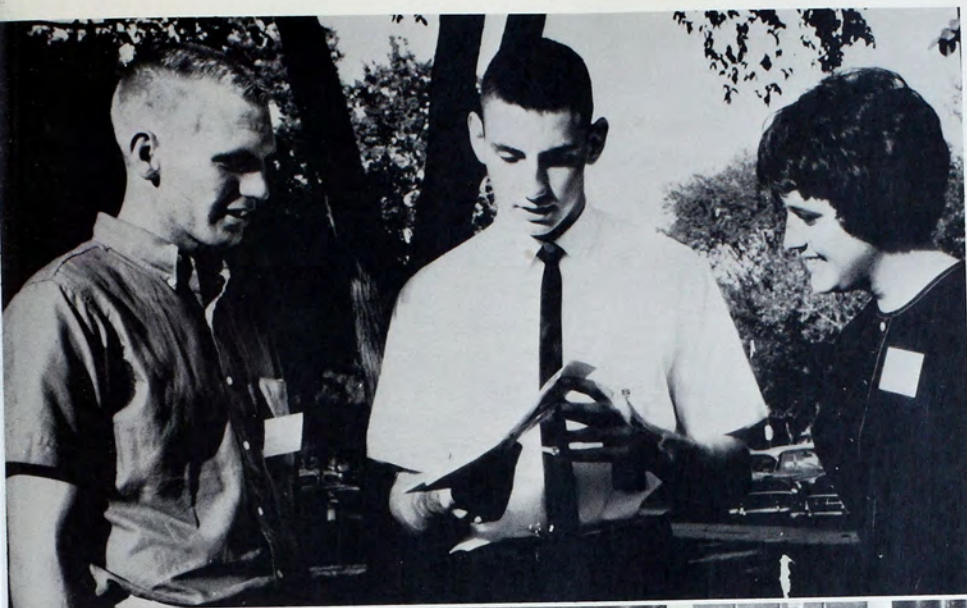

Armed with a scrub mop, Alpha Gams Janet and Saundra Powell and Suzanne Day tackle a cleaning job. Teamwork is the key to efficient housekeeping in all Greek houses.

Students Arrive Early to Move in . . .

"We could have used a moving van," exclaims brother John. Mr. and Mrs. Guy Saddler pitch in to help Rita move into her residence hall.

Even before enrollment and classes begin, students arrive to organize clean-ups, move in their belongings and meet new roommates. Occupants of residence halls and Greek houses get together to discuss group life. Everywhere, students are making new friends and renewing acquaintances.

Student leader Mike Leas offers aid to freshmen Bob Johnson and Theresia Weber.

The first steps to registration are taken in the Coliseum.

... and Enroll

Another group gathers in the Coliseum and enrollment begins. Within three days, thousands of white cards are filled out and countless schedules are planned—and replanned. Even the most experienced student is slightly bedraggled by the time he reaches the Memorial Union and the end of the line.

No one escapes the searching eye of the camera which snaps I. D. pictures.

First Weeks Crammed With Special Events

New students have little time to be lonely and homesick during their first two weeks at Fort Hays State. Besides handling hectic moving problems and enduring the tedious enrollment process, they attend meetings, and special events designed to help them adjust to college life and to become familiar with facilities and policies of the college.

Special conferences offer suggestions for learning to study, to use available assistance and to utilize time. The well-rounded program lays a foundation for the new student on which he can build a successful year for himself.

Thousands Visit Campus on Band — Parents' Day

One of the largest crowds of the year visits the campus for Band and Parent's Day. This year, parents of FHS students were entertained at a special program and reception. About 2,000 musicians from 38 high schools took part in the downtown parade. The FHS-Omaha football game climaxed the busy day and an outstanding half-time show presented by Dodge City and Lakin high school bands drew admiration and approval from an overflow crowd.

Popular pianist Peter Nero appeared in concert at Sheridan Coliseum to entertain with his specialty, a blend of classical music and jazz.

Celeste Holm and Agnew Hall women get together for a jam session. Miss Holm, who visited the campus for three days, presented "With Love and Laughter," a concert in which she showed the relationship between men and women through the words and music of writers ranging from Shakespeare to Rodgers and Hammerstein.

After a lecture to the student body, Herbert Philbrick, author of "I Led Three Lives" and FBI county-spy for nine years, discusses communism with Marvin Martin and Varden Penn.

Students gather in the lobby to comment on the Traveling Hootenanny, a show which included big name folk singers like Dr. Gottlieb of the Limelitters.

Corn Husking Bee

Everyone was invited to come to the WRA's corn husking bee, a fall party for singing, hog calling and square dancing.

The fall winds cooled and picked up speed, bringing a whirl of activities to the campus. The Artist and Lecture Series presented performers Peter Nero, Celeste Holm and lecturer Herbert Philbrick; the Memorial Union sponsored a Traveling Hootenanny. Students took time out to elect class and student council officers, as well as attend fall parties.

A crowd of almost 8,000 spectators watched the crowning of the Homecoming Queen and a performance by the FHS Band during the half-time.

Sweepstakes float winners, Alpha Kappa Lambda, built a 27-foot wide flying saucer to develop their theme, "Fort Martian to Victory." The bright yellow saucer, operated by two moon men, pursued a hornet (Volkswagen complete with yellow stripes and antennas) down Main Street.

Nineteen Floats Vie for Awards

"Orbiting to Victory," Sigma Sigma Sigma's entry in the parade, won first place in the women's division. Tigers orbited a giant globe while a helpless hornet looked on from a small moon.

Delta Sigma Phi captured first place in the men's division with "Unity," depicting a divided world being pushed together by the peoples of many nations. Foreign students rode on the float in native attire.

Newman Club, first place winners in open class, presented "Victory through Unity," urging the cooperation of all faiths during "Century 21"—1963 Fort Hays Homecoming theme.

Dating Is Laughter . . .

Excitement, agitation, seriousness, laughter—dating can prompt any of these emotional reactions. To some, dating is companionship; to others it is merely a social accomplishment. To all it is an excellent opportunity for meeting people and for expanding social attitudes.

Whatever its scope, serious or light, dating cannot be denied its significance as a part of college life.

Rogene Peters Crowned Queen at Reveille Ball

Mac Reed, editor, crowned Rogene Peters yearbook queen at the annual Reveille Ball Dec. 6. ViVi Sterling, last year's winner, presented roses to her successor. Carol Sterling, representing Sigma Sigma Sigma, was first attendant and Connie McDonald, nominated by McGrath Hall, was chosen second attendant. Miss Peters was sponsored by Agnew Hall.

The royal party was chosen from a group of 16 candidates by Celeste Holm, Broadway and screen star who reviewed the candidates when she visited the campus in October, then made the final selection from photographs.

First runner-up Carol Sterling receives her trophy from yearbook staff member, Mike Lawrence. Emcee George Kay and Miss Sterling's escort, Larry Dietz, look on.

Four Soloists Featured In Presentation of "Messiah"

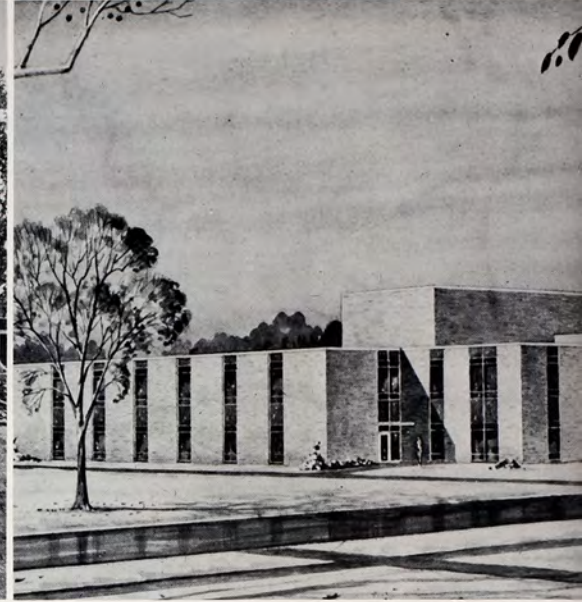

Pre-Christmas activities included the traditional "Messiah" and the presentation of a Christmas tree to President Cunningham. Soloists in Handel's oratorio this year were Don Stout and Mary Maude Moore, music faculty, Mrs. Beverly Dick of Hays, and David Ketchum, student. They were accompanied by the Choral Union and Symphonic orchestra.

A silver Christmas tree, hung with cards from all campus organizations, was presented to President Cunningham and his family. Following the presentation, the Concert Choir sang Christmas carols.

After President Cunningham accepted the students' Christmas tree, the Concert Choir led the onlookers in Christmas carols.

Parts of New Malloy Hall To Be Ready by Fall Term

By January the construction of Malloy Hall was well underway. The building, named in memory of the first head of the college's music department, is expected to be in use by spring semester 1965, although some parts will be ready next fall.

The Impromptuos, Mary Maude Moore's vocal group, cut a record at an open recording session at the Memorial Union. The record, called "Impromptuos on Campus," features folksongs and show tunes.

Sophomore Nurses Measured For Spring Capping Ceremony

Dixie King and Jan Montgomery inspect a new shipment of caps, which they hope to don in March.

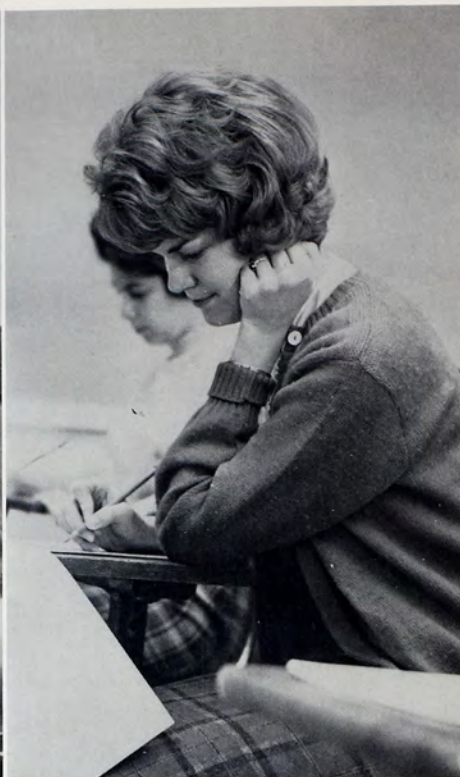

In anticipation of their capping ceremony in March, 24 sophomores were measured for uniforms early in the year. To the student nurse, the capping ceremony is a milestone, the completion of pre-clinical instruction and the beginning of hospital experience. The 1964 capping class was one of the largest in the history of FHS.

Being measured for uniforms are Cindy Hagaman and Karen Knorp.

Finals—a time of anticipation . . .

Final Week Marks End of Fall Semester . . .

January brought the end of the first semester, final week and another enrollment. Students prepared for exams in individual and group study sessions during final week. After finals came relief, and a four-day semester break, the first real vacation of the year, and on Jan. 26 students returned for enrollment, handled by the newly installed IBM machines. The student population numbered 3754 for the spring semester.

New Sorority Interviews Prospective Members

While Greeks were busy helping the new sorority, the staff of the Memorial Union was planning a Japanese Gourmet.

The Black and Gold Room was transformed by a setting of a teahouse and Buddha, surrounded by huge rocks, trees, lanterns and two reflecting pools of water.

After an authentic Japanese dinner, complete with sukiyaki and chopsticks, Kozo Terada' narrated scenic color slides of his country and the Schilling AFB Judo Team performed.

FHS's own Geisha Girls danced at the Memorial Union's Japanese Gourmet.

Alpha Xi Delta, newest sorority on campus, worked tirelessly during February to establish their membership.

Women interested in establishing the new chapter were interviewed by the sorority's province and expansion directors. A Rose Reception Tea was held for prospective members and open bidding was held for a week.

Actors, Concert Singer Perform in Coliseum

A national touring theater company of Canada, the Canadian Players, opened FHS's second semester Artists and Lecture Series with Shakespeare's "Henry IV" in February. Marian Anderson, famed Negro contralto who has become a living legend to millions around the world, sang at Sheridan Coliseum March 2 as a part of her farewell tour. Miss Anderson will retire from the stage after a world tour; her final concert in this country will be at Carnegie Hall in April, 1965. A performance by the St. Louis Symphony concluded the series March 5.

FHS Alumni Display Work at Art Exhibit

February's art exhibit featured sculpture and ceramic work by three FHS graduates, Darrell McGinnis, instructor of art at Northwest Missouri State College; Gary E. Coulter, instructor at Hastings, Neb., College; and Jim Hinkhouse, University of Kansas graduate student. Below: McGinnis shows some of his earthenware ceramic pieces to Coulter, John Berland, FHS sculpture instructor, and Hinkhouse.

Weekend Parties Release Tension

Seldom does a weekend go by that someone isn't having a party, whether it be with or without costumes. It is not uncommon to have your date meet you at the door of her dorm or sorority house in pajamas, sailor suit or straw hat and overalls. Informals are common on the social schedule. No matter what the occasion, for many students these get-togethers release academic pressure and make college life unforgettable.

Novel Contests Spur Excitement

Winners of the Daisy Mae and Bearded Joe contests were selected by money vote and announced at the Leap Week dance Feb. 28. Proceeds from the election went to a foreign student scholarship fund.

George Seitz, as Marryin' Sam, found business lined up and waiting at the Leap Week finale. It was all good fun and the "eternal vows" lasted only a few minutes.

Voted Ugly Man on Campus in a new novelty contest sponsored by Alpha Phi Omega, Don Herron received a trophy to be given to Delta Sigma Phi, who nominated him. Votes were a penny and $386 was contributed to the Endowment Assn.

Three Groups Join Poise 'n Ivy Show

Non-music majors—the Impromptuos, and the Men's and Women's Glee Clubs—presented the annual Poise 'n Ivy show Feb. 21 and 22 in Sheridan Coliseum. Selections from Broadway plays and other popular music were featured in the program.

Mary Maude Moore directed the show and Al Dunavan was master of ceremonies.

Proceeds from the performances added almost $900 to the Wooster Endowment Fund.

Val Stecklein silences the screams of female admirers so he and his would-be Beatle group, Vernon Minnis, George Kay and Jim Lundin (who was on drums and is not pictured) can sing their favorite, "I Wanna Hold Your Hand."

"Baby, it's cold outside," coos Mary Maude Moore, but Al Dunavan remains unmoved—"My mother will worry," he explains later in the song.

Riotous action characterized "The Male Animal" last spring. Merlyn Reichel and Pat McAtee, football heroes, carry in Garry Ball, the college prof., while his wife, Alice McFarland, is horrified. Rex Gaskill, student editor, is comforted by his girl friend, Karen Jo Fleming. Mary Taylor, the maid, looks on in disgust.

Plays Offer Experience and Entertainment . . .

LITTLE THEATER SHOWS offer experience in all phases of production and give opportunity for self-expression as well as training for drama teachers. "Inherit the Wind," and "Light Up the Sky" were this year's shows. "A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court" was staged last summer and "The Male Animal" last spring.

Greeks Coordinate Spring Activities

Greek Week, highlight of the 1963 school year for all Greek organizations, opened with an All-Pledge dance. Sig Tau Robert Rucker and Tri Sigma Ardis Bourbina reigned as king and queen over the affair.

Later in the week, Sigma Phi Epsilon and Sigma Sigma Sigma won the traditional Greek Sing. The Sig Eps also captured the trophy at the chariot race at Lewis Field.

Greek Week was originated five years ago by Panhellenic Council and Interfraternity Council to coordinate Greek activities into one week.

Sig Ep runners, Dave Hurt and Bob Anthony, strain toward the finish line, while TKE's Steve Brock and John Ehrlich follow close behind.

1963 Follies Features Eleven Night Club Acts

Carol Resley belts out a Dixie melody and Agnew Hall cops second place with "Highlights of Night Clubs."

Joe Dolezal and Mary Ann Schnoebelen's musical comedy sketch captured first place in the single's division.

Set in the exclusive "Club Esquire," the 1963 Fort Hays Follies presented one of the liveliest floor shows in follies history. Staged in the Coliseum, the 11 acts included everything from dancing girls in red tights to honky tonk piano players.

Alpha Gamma Delta and Tau Kappa Epsilon team up with "Greek-Side Story" and carry home first place and traveling sweepstakes trophies.

Art students put their creative works up for sale at the clothesline sale in the Memorial Union last spring.

Spring Activities Mark Year's End

Spring concerts and programs, the arrival of the yearbook, anticipation of graduation—all are signs that the year is almost over. Organizations initiate new members, hold banquets and plan the annual spring formal. The climax of the season, of course, is commencement. For the graduates it is the end of one phase of life and the beginning of another.

FHS Hosts Fall Meetings, Conferences

As a central point in Western Kansas, Hays and Fort Hays State hosts numerous activities, many of which are sponsored by the Kansas High School Activities Assn. Fall conferences and meetings bring many to the campus. Among the events held at FHS this fall were the journalism seminar for staff and advisors, debate meets, Stuco LeCon, Band Day and Teacher's Meeting.

Young People Swarm Campus in Spring

Large crowds of high school students visit the campus each spring to attend district and state music contests, speech and debate meets and Career Day. The Fort Hays Relay is the highlight of the track season for many area high schools. The Industrial Arts Fair features the handiwork of thousands of boys.

Young musicians develop their talents at the annual summer High Plains Music Camp. Through these diverse activities for youth, Fort Hays State serves the educational needs of Western Kansas.

Teachers Supplement Work With Intense Summer Study

Grants from the National Science Foundation are awarded every year to selected high school chemistry and mathematics teachers for summer's study in their respective fields. Other teachers come to FHS to participate in their choice of one, two or three workshops offered in three sessions in June and July. Supplementing the regular summer class schedule are the two institutes sponsored by the science foundation, various conferences and nearly 30 workshops.

Planners of the first Fort Hays Furlough in May were Nancy McDonald, Ken Brown, Jerry Hildreth, Janet Little, Elaine Hubbard, Ernie Miller, Kent Collier and Gloria Dizmang. The Furlough, modeled after the Indianapolis 500, included a football game and fund-raising shows and competitions. Proceeds went to the Endowment Association.

FHS Furlough, Retreat Offer Sports, Recreation

Recreation is easy to find at FHS, whether it be at an event like the Fort Hays Furlough, or the year-round facilities of the FHS Lake Retreat.

Students and faculty joined forces to landscape, erect fences and buildings for the lake retreat at Cedar Bluffs. Started in 1961, it serves as a center for boating and swimming, tobogganing and ice skating.

At first glance this looks like a lonely wanderer in the desert, but a second glance confirms the guess. It's Dr. Reynolds on the frozen surface of Cedar Bluffs Lake.

Seniors Look Forward To Spring Graduation

Four years ago the idea of graduation and a degree seemed remote. But when the samples of announcements, caps and gowns arrive and the payment of fees is due, the dream becomes a realization. The diploma is a measure of the graduate's accomplishment—he has received an education and is ready to enter the world as a responsible citizen.

393 Candidates Graduate in May

A total of 393 graduates joined in a whirl of commencement week activities last spring. Two luncheons, a reception, the baccalaureate service, and a dinner made up the candidates' social schedule.

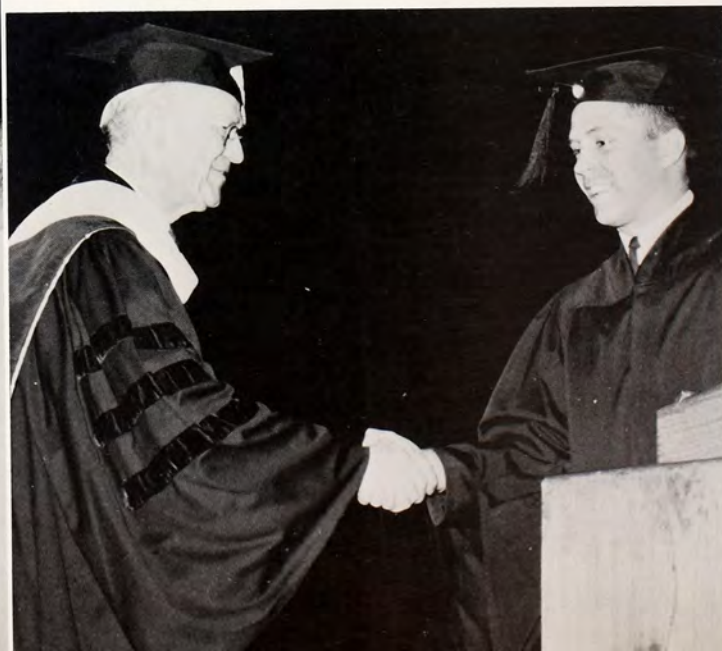

At Commencement on May 27, Dr. Boyd McCandless, distinguished FHS alumnus and faculty member of the school of education, Indiana University, gave the address. President Cunningham conferred the degrees.

In addition, 221 graduates received degrees at summer Commencement. A much larger class is expected to graduate this spring.

... Where We Progress
From Freshmen
to Seniors

Each year brings a greater challenge, advanced study and a new classification to mark another milestone in the student's academic career. The freshman arrives, just out of high school, and embarks on the first of four years of study; the sophomore, tempered by experience, tackles his books confidently; the junior selects his major and plunges into research; the senior, anticipating graduation, climaxes his education.

Midsummer is the time to see Hays merchants mixing work with play. Each year they move their wares from the counters indoors to the make-shift stands outside for a Sidewalk Bazaar, and sell their goods personally in the tradition of the friendly, small town shopkeeper. Although the bazaar is held only one day a year, the congeniality of Hays businessmen exists year-round. To the college students, they offer their cooperation as well as their products and services. It is only fitting that they be listed with the students and faculty as friends of Fort Hays State.

In Appreciation

After working on four volumes of the Reveille, I find it difficult to complete this final page of my final book. College has been a time to remember for me and I hope that this book will help make Fort Hays State lasting in your memory.

Students make the yearbook possible and without the co-operation of the entire student body, we wouldn't have this book. Untold hours go into the making of a book and the 1964 Reveille staff has spent more hours than they can count creating and completing this volume. To them my gratitude and appreciation.

Our book wouldn't be, if it weren't for our faculty advisor, Mrs. Katherine Rogers. In consultations with her, we have been able to make and execute the plans of this book.

"A book is as good as its pictures." Greatest appreciation goes to Malcolm Applegate and the News Service photographers. Also, thanks to Delma Studios of New York for individual photos, and to Guercio Studios of Hays for studio photography of Favorites.

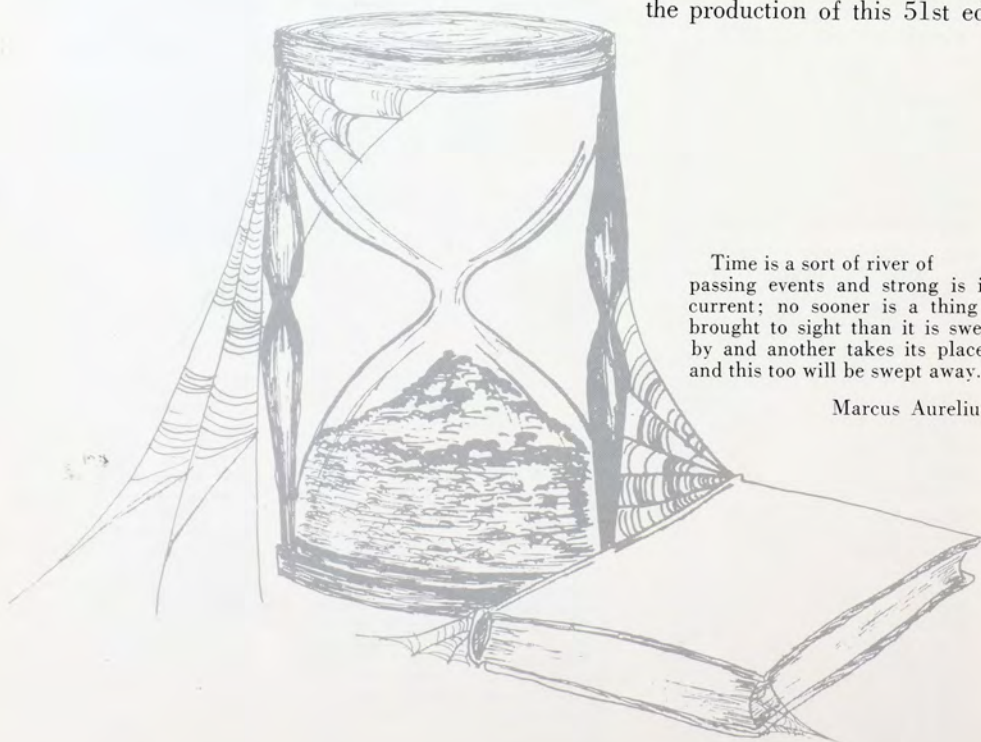

Special thanks go to Gloria Dizmang, who drew the hour glasses, and to Ralph Hormel for his artwork photography. Also, to Ted Tow who helped with sports information.

Without the Memorial Union, we couldn't have produced a book. I can't express enough thanks to Jerry Ruttman and his staff for their help. They housed all group pictures, our Delma photographer and the yearbook distribution.

Lastly, thank you, Taylor Publishing Company and your representative Paul McClellan, for assistance in the construction of this book.

As the sand drifts to the bottom of the hour glass, so ends the production of this 51st edition of the Reveille:

Mac Reed

Time is a sort of river of passing events and strong is its current; no sooner is a thing brought to sight than it is swept by and another takes its place . . . and this too will be swept away.
